

MRS. McPHERSON'S ACCUSER TELLS OF 'JOHN DOE MARTIN'

Defense and State Clash Over Admissibility, but Court Lets Mrs. Wiseman-Siellaf Proceed.

SHE GIVES DETAILS OF FALSE EVIDENCE

Court Adjourned for Columbus Day—Evangelist Planning to Take Rest at the Seashore.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—District Attorney Keyes and W. I. Gilbert, defense counsel for Mrs. Alice Temple McPherson, evangelist of Angelus Temple, clashed yesterday over the admissibility of references to "John Doe Martin" named as confederate with the evangelist and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and others, in an alleged plot to obstruct justice.

Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Siellaf, generally referred to as Mrs. Wiseman, was on the stand. She accused Mrs. McPherson of having hired and schooled her in a plot to manufacture evidence to disprove the charge that the evangelist lived at a cottage at Carmel-by-the-Sea with Kenneth G. Ormiston, former radio operator at Angelus Temple. Mrs. Wiseman was first approached by a "Mr. Martin," she says.

Gilbert objected on the ground that no foundation had been laid to establish Martin as a coconspirator.

Defense Objection Overruled.
"Martin's footprints are in this case somewhere," Keyes replied, "and if we don't prove it I will be willing for this testimony to be struck from the record."

The witness was permitted to proceed.

Mrs. Wiseman said Martin approached her in a San Francisco hotel lobby last July and asked her to help clear Mrs. McPherson of "this scandal at Carmel." It was at Martin's suggestion, the witness said, that she came to Los Angeles and entered into the alleged conspiracy with Mrs. McPherson and her mother to produce a woman who was to pose as having been Ormiston's companion at Carmel.

The evangelist disappeared from here last May 18. She disappeared at Douglas, Ariz., five weeks later with a story of having been kidnapped and held prisoner in Mexico. The State charges she was at Carmel with Ormiston part of the time at least.

Discredited Arizona Claim.
In refutation of the charge that Mrs. McPherson visited several Arizona points during the time she declares she was held in Mexico, Mrs. Alex Pearson of Tucson, Ariz., issued a statement last night denying the evangelist filed a message from Gila Bend, Ariz., June 15, Mrs. Pearson said the message was sent to her by Mrs. Gay Coontz, a friend of Mrs. McPherson.

Keyes has summoned witnesses from Gila Bend who have identified Mrs. McPherson as the woman who filed a telegram stating that her automobile had broken down and that she was proceeding by train to Douglas, Ariz., where the evangelist appeared a week later and told of being kidnapped.

Mrs. Pearson said she did not know Mrs. McPherson and that she wanted to avoid being entangled in the case, but someone had mistaken Mrs. Coontz for the evangelist.

Evangelist Taking Holiday.
Taking advantage of today's court holiday because of Columbus Day, Mrs. McPherson planned to rest at the seashore. She did not preach at last night's prayer meeting at her temple and she failed to issue her customary nightly "bulletin" summarizing the day's proceedings of her trial.

Declares Martin Said "Of Course" Evangelist Was at Carmel.

Mrs. Wiseman testified yesterday she entered the McPherson case in San Francisco, where she was employed as a stenographer at the request of a "Mr. Martin." Martin produced newspaper clippings about the McPherson case and said the evangelist must be cleared. Mrs. Wiseman testified, Martin then told her she said that "Of course, it really was Mrs. McPherson at Carmel. I would not want you to help."

The witness said she went to Los Angeles and met Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Kennedy, telling

BRIDE FIFTH TIME

A NEW photograph of Mrs. W. C. McCarter, taken just after her recent marriage to the son of the former Attorney-General of New Jersey. Equally well known as the Baroness Robert D'Erlanger and Mrs. Peter Cooper Hewitt, Mrs. McCarter now is in possession of her fifth husband.

When she knew the evangelist was not the woman at Carmel and agreeing to make a statement, Mrs. McPherson paid her $50 the day after her arrival, she testified.

Asked to Find "Little Lady."

Mrs. Kennedy asked her to produce the "little lady" who occupied the Carmel cottage and instructed her to go to Carmel to interview persons who identified Mrs. McPherson. Mrs. Wiseman said she reported that a number of persons at Carmel were certain they saw the evangelist at the cottage and told Mrs. Kennedy she was sending East for the "little lady," to pose as the woman of the cottage.

A few days later she told the evangelist and her mother that the "little lady" was on her way and suggested it would be better for the "little lady" to be her sister.

Mrs. McPherson then suggested that Mrs. Wiseman was the woman mistaken for herself at Carmel and had her purchase a dress, a hat and a pair of goggles, similar to those worn by the Carmel woman, the witness said. Mrs. McPherson also had her arrange her hair so it would resemble the evangelist's.

Slept in Evangelist's Bed.

Mrs. Wiseman said she spent between seven and nine nights at the McPherson home, sleeping in the evangelist's own bed.

Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Kennedy had discussed an affidavit to be made by the "little lady" known as "Miss X." Mrs. Wiseman said, and in a notebook she took suggestions for the affidavit. "Miss X" arrived from Philadelphia, Mrs. Wiseman said, and was driven to Salinas, Cal., where Mrs. Kennedy had arranged to have the affidavit drawn.

Ireland Rich, Wooley, attorney for the evangelist, was present when "Miss X" appeared and the affidavit drawn up by Judge Bard, Wooley and Mrs. Wiseman, the witness said. Mrs. Wiseman declared she furnished the information contained in the affidavit from the contents in the notebook given her by Mrs. McPherson.

Copy Sent to Martin.

Mrs. Wiseman said she wrote to an affidavit, one copy of which was sent by airplane mail to "Martin" in Chicago. The affidavit stated that her sister was the woman at Carmel under the name of "Mrs. McIntyre," and that she (Mrs. Wiseman) was attempting to "right a great wrong."

Mrs. Wiseman then identified the "Miss X" affidavit, which also was read by Keyes.

BUCHAREST, Oct. 12.—The illness of King Ferdinand, which it was feared might prevent the visit of Queen Marie of Rumania to America, has proved less immediately dangerous than was at first believed. It is not quite clear whether the King is suffering from cancer or atrophic cirrhosis of the liver. Queen Marie insisted before she left Bucharest upon knowing the truth, and was told she would make the trip to America now without any danger of her husband's death during her absence.

2 YOUNG GUNMEN KILL 4, WOUND 5, IN SAN FRANCISCO

City Firemen Ordered Out to Aid Police in Rounding Up Pair—1000 Rifles Requisitioned.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Every San Francisco policeman on vacation or otherwise off duty was called back to his post today to join in a concerted effort of the Police Department to round up two maniacal young gunmen, who have carried on a reign of bloody robbery and shooting since Saturday night.

Many firemen also were detailed to police duty, and 1000 rifles were requisitioned from the National Guard armory to equip the officers.

Striking rapidly in various parts of the city, the gunmen last night followed up an orgy of crime Saturday night and Sunday by killing three men and wounding five others, either by shooting them or by beating them with pistol butts. In the shooting on Saturday and Sunday, one man was killed outright, another died of wounds and three were shot.

Taxi Driver Killed.

The gunmen started operations last night by killing Walter Swanson, a taxi driver. They then took his clothing, threw the body over a viaduct and continued their depredations in Swanson's cab. Within an hour, they killed two more men and wounded three others.

After killing Swanson, the pair entered a restaurant, where they shot and wounded Louis Fernandez, a cook, and robbed the cash register of $75. Two men in the restaurant said the robbers shot Fernandez when he indicated he thought their command of "Hands up" was a joke.

Crossing the street to a filling station, they shot and killed John Duane, a night watchman, and wounded C. W. Johnson, station attendant, and his companion, R. A. Hayden. Johnson was shot down when he ran from the gunmen.

Third Victim Not Robbed.

The third killing occurred in another section of the city, where Michael Petrovich, a steam shovel operator, was shot to death as he stroled along the sidewalk. Petrovich had not been robbed.

Next, the robbers encountered Alvin Anderson, a seaman, and Stephen Walker, and beat them both after robbing them. They were pushed by a policeman after robbing Walker, but escaped after an exchange of shots. Forced to abandon the cab, they stole another automobile and, driving past the spot where they killed Swanson, they directed a fusillade of shots at an officer. They missed, however, and the policeman returned the fire without effect.

One suspect was arrested when he was unable to give a satisfactory account of his presence in an abandoned taxicab. Although he is still being held, police believe that he had no connection with the crimes. He said his name was Michael Price.

named Gilliam as deputy prosecutor. Two more deputies probably will be named.

Remy, speaking to this correspondent, promised a vigorous prosecution of the investigation. No suspicion attaches to him in the Stephens scandal which has drawn so many officials into its web. He directed the prosecution of the former Klan "dragon" for murder. He is slightly stooped, thick chested young man with a deal of character and strength in his face.

But as for Adams, who has had in a manner of speaking this investigation thrust down his throat, there must be some satisfaction in the success of the strategem which will produce Stephens in open court Wednesday afternoon, 19 hours before he goes into the silence of the jury room.

Whether Stephens will unlock his secrets then or play a deeper hand by reticence remains to be seen.

Origin of Habeas Corpus Case.
The habeas corpus proceedings may be explained in brief by saying it hinged upon the refusal of Warden Daly to honor Judge Miller's writ.

Two Men Killed, Three Wounded, in Gang War

a few moments before O'Brien was shot. His law partners characterized the shooting as an attempt to terrorize the defense.

Besides those killed or wounded, the slayers can also put a notch in their guns for a little crippled dog that did his best to bar their escape.

As two men who had operated the machine gun from the apartment building clattered down the stairs and out the back way after the shooting, a woman in the apartment building observed them. As they made their way through a back yard, a little crippled dog, recovering from an automobile accident, jumped across the yard and lunged at one of the fleeing men. He stepped and brought the butt of a pistol down on the animal's head, crushing its skull.

Climax of Long Fight.

Although the usual silence of gangland prevailed after the shooting, the police said the attack was the climax of a long guerrilla warfare between two cliques of gunmen and beer runners.

They believe the shooting was the direct result of the failure of a recent "peace parley" between henchmen of "Scarface Al" Capone, kingpin of the vicelands, and Weiss. The meeting broke up, according to information in the hands of the authorities, when Weiss demanded that Capone offer for assassination the two men who had tried to kill his partner, Vincent "Shemmer" Drucel on Michigan avenue several weeks ago. The demand was rejected.

The authorities believe the O'Brien slaying was the genesis of a series of reprisals and counter-reprisals, culminating in the latest assault. Weiss was a lieutenant of the florist gangster, The Capone-Johnny Torrio band was blamed for the shooting. Later Torrio was shot down, but not killed, and this was called a reprisal by O'Brien's followers.

Then, two months ago, came the attempt to kill Drucel, partner of Weiss in the leadership of the O'Brien gang, blamed on the Capone faction. A counter-blow by the Weiss-Drucel forces was seen in the next episode, when the Hawthorne Hotel in Cicero was raked by machine gun fire in an evident attempt to slay Capone, who was escaped. A full followed, during court order last Saturday. That order was granted on grounds that Stephens was part owner of the defunct Hoosier Tailors, Inc., and could accordingly be subpoenaed and questioned by the receiver as to assets.

Although Adams now has the jump on the Grand Jury inquiry in the matter of getting at Stephens, it is possible that Gilliam may counter this with stratagem. Judge Collins could issue a forthright subpoena for Stephens and thus anticipate the habeas corpus writ.

The inquiry was livened by an announcement of Adams that United States Senator William E. Borah had wired him for information concerning the corruption charges. Adams said he forwarded documents to Borah and replied by telegraph in part as follows:

"I believe that this is a matter of grave importance that the Senate should probe into the workings of the Super-government of the Invisible Empire, to show its marvelous scientific co-ordination, the superabundant snacks of treason, according to the view of able lawyers here."

Still for Open Inquiry.

Adams said the intervention of the unrequested grand jury inquiry would not halt his striving for an open investigation. He said that 35 of the 50 State Senators were now behind him in his demand for a special legislative session to take the scandal up.

The present enigma is who sent Jack Maroney, Department of Justice operative, to talk with Stephens in prison Saturday. The local Federal Attorney disavows the responsibility. The head of the Washington Bureau is reported as denying the mission. United States Senator James E. Watson denies from his hospital bed he sent the man. And Maroney keeps his mouth shut. That situation seems highly dangerous for somebody and there is much talk behind the hand.

What the Stephens scandal has done to the Republican campaign is problematical. Many say that Reed Sees Nothing Calling for U. S. Senate Inquiry in Indiana.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 12.—Reports emanating from various sources relative to the Indiana political situation do not as yet seem to warrant an inquiry by the Senate Committee investigating primary election campaign expenditures, Senator James A. Reed, chairman of the committee, said here last night. "From what I have read of the Indiana situation, I believe there is nothing that calls for an inquiry by the Senate investigating committee, since no 1926 senatorial primary is involved," Senator Reed said.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Oct. 12.—The grand jury subpoena calling for the presence of D. C. Stephens, life prisoner at the Indiana penitentiary, before the county grand jury at Indianapolis, was served on Warden Daly by Sheriff Hahn of La Porte County today.

The writ directs that the prisoner, who is represented as claiming to have knowledge of political corruption in Indiana, be produced before the grand jurors at 9 a. m. Thursday.

Warden Daly also was served with a writ of habeas corpus to take Stephens before Judge Lindsey Miller in the Superior Court in Indianapolis tomorrow. The warden said he could not decide his course of action until he had received legal advice.

$400,000 WILLED TO G. S. TAYLOR GO TO CHARITIES

Heir of Directing Architect of St. Louis World Exposition, in Own Will, Carries Out Trust.

Three St. Louis charities ultimately will receive between $100,000 and $150,000 each by the death last week of George S. Taylor, 32 years old, who inherited the bulk of the estate of his brother, Isaac S. Taylor, prominent St. Louis architect, who died in 1917.

Under the architect's will, property at 821 Locust street was placed in trust for the brother and will now revert to the Missouri Baptist Orphan Home at Pasadena, St. Louis County. This property improved with a two-story building is assessed at $105,500, and is said to be worth more.

George Taylor followed his brother's example by leaving the bulk of the estate ultimately to charity. In his will, filed yesterday, he made specific bequests aggregating $125,000, and established trust funds to provide for his widow, friends and distant relatives. On their death the bulk of the estate, estimated at $300,000, will be divided equally between the Little Sisters of the Poor, at 2208 Hebert street, and the Memorial Home for Women at 2609 South Grand boulevard.

Mr. Taylor, who spent most of his life as a civil engineer in Mexico, inherited virtually all his wealth from his brother. He died Wednesday of pneumonia at Missouri Baptist Sanitarium a few days after being taken ill in his suite at the Hamilton Hotel. He was buried Friday in Bellefontaine Cemetery, in the Taylor family lot. His nearest kin were the children of cousins.

To his widow, Mrs. Matilde H. C. Taylor, whom he married in 1919, when he was 76, Mr. Taylor left $5,000 cash and the income from a $50,000 trust fund. Other specific bequests were $3000 to Taylor R. Samuel, of Chicago; $15,000 to Katherine R. Breckenridges, of Kansas City; $1500 to Mrs. Julia Yeaman, of New Orleans; $1500 to Mrs. Elsie Surridge, of St. Louis; and $1000 to Miss Zella Alberts of St. Louis. His library, elk horn, stuffed fish, Japanese vases and paintings, and cut glass are left to various individuals.

The residue is placed in trust with the Mercantile Trust Co. and R. M. Nicholls, attorney, who were trustees for his brother. Rent from property fronting 96 feet on St. Charles street where a Union Electric power plant stands will be divided between Mary R. Smith, of Chicago. At their death, the trust fund will be dissolved and the two institutions come into their inheritance.

Isaac S. Taylor was internationally known as an architect, having been director of works for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition and the designer of more large buildings in St. Louis than any other architect. Among them were the Public Library, Jefferson Memorial, Mercantile Trust Co., Art Museum, National Bank of Commerce Building, Southern Hotel and Board of Education Building.

GOLD HANDICAPS WOMAN SWIMMING TO NEW YORK

Mrs. Schoenmehl Makes Only Three Miles in Day's First Hour; Passed Catskill at Noon.

By the Associated Press.

CATSKILL, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Mrs. Charlotte Moore Schoenmehl of New York City, who is attempting to swim down the Hudson River from Albany to the Metropolis, passed Catskill shortly before noon today. She hoped to make Kingston, 30 miles south of this city, by nightfall.

Leaving Athens, where she spent last night, at 9 o'clock, Mrs. Schoenmehl encountered cold, rough water and was able to swim only three miles in the first hour. She was obliged to use automobile grease on her body as she was unable to replenish her supply of the ointment she had been using to protect herself from the cold.

As she swam past Catskill, using a strong crawl stroke, Mrs. Schoenmehl had been in the water 14 hours from the time of her departure from Albany Sunday. The temperature of the Hudson here was 55 degrees while the air was only 10 degrees warmer.

Clear Skies at Beardstown

BEARDSTOWN, Ill., Oct. 12.—Clear skies and a flood river at a standstill for the last 12 hours brought the first ray of hope to residents here this morning.

The Illinois River, now at 24.36 feet, has risen only one-quarter inch since yesterday afternoon, and it is not expected to go higher unless more rain falls. No attempt has been made to move any of the stalled automobiles parked on the higher spots throughout the town, but one energetic salesman sold an automobile and delivered it today by raft. Gas, electric and telephone service has been uninterrupted.

CROWD OF 30,000
MAKES BEDLAM OF

Fans Gather at Sportsman's Park to Hear Ball Players but Raise So Much Racket They Can't.

PLANS ABANDONED
AFTER HOUR OF DIN
Lights Turned Out, Speakers and Guests of Honor Go Home—Noisy Throng Utterly Beyond Control.

The civic homecoming celebration for the world champion Cardinals was drowned out last night by the flood of enthusiasm of more than 30,000 frantic fans, with youth predominating, who jammed the tiny lot stands of Sportsman's Park and overflowed on the playing field.

Of the 11 ball players who managed to make their way to the speakers' stand on the diamond, only the picturesque veteran, Grover Cleveland Alexander, was generally recognized by the throng. The others, attired like the crowd in street clothes, were lost except for the handling of committal papers.

Committees chosen from each of the local Knights of Columbus took part in the ceremony. The organization also is to give a dinner at 7:30 p. m. at the Chamber of Commerce. Noonday mass was celebrated at the Old St. Louis Cathedral, Second and Walnut streets.

Banks and business houses remained open.

Lady Dimdale Kills Herself

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Suicide of an unbalanced mind was the coroner's verdict today in the case of Lady Dimdale, said to be a wealthy mistress in a girl's school, Greenwich, Conn., who died recently in a London hotel after drinking poison. She was the widow of Sir John Dimdale, son of a former Lord Mayor of London.

Lady Dimdale was charged with attempting suicide by drowning the sea off Whitstable. She had complained of poverty.

the centerfield section with a flaring red light.

And then the players appeared at the gate back of third base. Alexander, bareheaded and waving. Billy Southworth, quiet and self-possessed. The lean, boyish Reinhardt, generously pushing his veteran associate, Alexander, before him.

Then Ray Blades—"Sunny Jim" Bottomley with his infectious grin—the lean-faced Vic Kennedy—"Silent Tommy" Thevenow. After them earnest Bob O'Farrell, and with him the veteran coach, Otto Williams, and Wattie Holm, half delighted, half panicky at the crowd's enthusiasm.

Then came confusion. Out of the roaring, screaming stands in a dozen places, men, women and children leaped over the rails, to slip past or howl over unsuspecting policemen. In an instant the field was alive with figures rushing toward the group of smiling, bewildered ball players.

Police Unable to Hold Mob.

Policemen shouted, pushed, made ineffectual attempts to stem the flood like the scene of a motion picture mob.

Somehow, the players made their way to the stands. They were followed onto the frail structure by a choking crowd of officials, newspapermen and photographers. The crowd clotted thickly about the platform, threatening to crush the stand. A rail was torn away on one side. A board snapped with a crack audible above the tumult.

Women screamed for the men to let them nearer the stand. Two of them, their hats askew, their faces bathed in perspiration, fought their way to Alexander's feet to paw frantically at the edge of his coat.

After 15 minutes or so, a small space, now six feet wide, now narrowed to three, was cleared around the stand. The band, which had been scattered by the crowd, assembled again. A member of the Reception Committee waved his arms for silence.

Din Drowns Out Announcer.

Apparently the crowd thought he was calling for cheers. The noise went on, redoubled. Another announcer went to the microphone. "I am asked to tell you," he began, "that—"

But no one heard him except the electrician who was holding the "mike."

Bottomley slipped from the platform and made his way through the crowd to his mother and father who were in the stand. O'Farrell and Keen followed him. Well-dressed, quiet, self-possessed, they passed through the throng almost without a sign of recognition.

Southworth, immaculate in tweed coat, light suit and gray hat, was dragged to the microphone. Someone had told him he would be heard even above the tumult. A Post-Dispatch reporter, who crowded up to the microphone six inches from his face, heard not a word of what he said.

Thevenow was next. He stuck his hands deep in the pockets of his topcoat. His mouth opened. He was speaking. Not a word could be heard.

Next came Otto Williams. "Certainly tickled to death—" "Glad to be here—" "In New York." That was all the reporter alongside the Horace Ritter Required to Give $3000 Bond After Preliminary Hearing at Clayton.

Horace Ritter, 24 years old, of 3122 St. Louis avenue, a mechanic, was held under $3000 bond by Justice of the Peace Stecker at Clayton today after a preliminary hearing into the circumstances of the accident, Sept. 15, when Ritter's machine skidded into another automobile on the Florissant road in the county and killed Mrs. Clara Strook, 70, of 309 Hereford avenue, Ferguson, who was an occupant of the other machine.

A coroner's jury had held Ritter for homicide. The Strook automobile was driven by Mrs. Strook's son, Donald, 19. Besides him and his mother there were four other passengers.

Witnesses testified that it was a rainy night and the road was wet, and that Ritter was driving off his side of the road. Ritter, testifying in his own defense, asserted that both machines skidded and that he did everything possible to avert the accident. The Strook automobile overturned after being struck and Mrs. Strook suffered internal injuries from which she died.

WOMAN ATTORNEY ADMONISHED
BY JUDGE OVER ESTATE CLAIM

Loses Demand for $1500 Fee and Is Told She Would Be Fined if She Were a Man.

Probate Judge Holtcamp today denied the claim of Miss Bertha Jay Bremer, an attorney, for $1500 for legal services alleged to have been rendered the late Miss Pauline Kuntze, who died last February, and admonished Miss Bremer for her actions toward Miss Harriet C. Hulick, executrix of Miss Kuntze's estate, who appeared as a witness for the claimant.

When Miss Bremer failed to prove her claim through the testimony of Miss Hulick, she charged the witness with not telling the truth. "If you were a man I would fine you for contempt of court," Judge Holtcamp told Miss Bremer after the latter had dismissed the witness. The claim for legal services, which Miss Bremer declares kept Miss Kuntze out of involved litigation, was then denied.

A claim for $1000 brought against the estate by Miss Emily Zeppenfeld for domestic services at the Kuntze home, 509 North Newstead avenue, was also denied by Judge Holtcamp.

Mrs. Charlotte Berthold Apparently Accidental Victim of Gas.

Mrs. Charlotte Berthold, 65 years old, a widow, who lived alone in the rear of 1511 Cass avenue, was found dead in bed there yesterday evening when police, summoned by neighbors, broke in. A gas jet was half open and gas escaping.

Neighbors said Mrs. Berthold was in the habit of sleeping with a dim light. The flame is supposed to have blown out Sunday night. A daughter, Mrs. Amelia Meyer, lives in Pine Lawn.

PASTOR'S SON ADMITS PASSING BAD CHECKS

Donald F. Grieves, 21, Arrested With Woman, Also Faces Mann Act Charge.

Donald F. Grieves, 21 years old, son of the Rev. Dr. Thomas O. Grieves, former pastor of Union Methodist Episcopal Church, is in the holdover at Magnolia District Police Station held for Federal authorities and suspected of violating the Mann Act, the interstate transportation of a stolen automobile, passing worthless checks and defrauding a hotel.

He was arrested yesterday in a drug store at 2834 Wyoming street with a woman, who said she was Mrs. Pearl Joy, 34 years old, of Laramie, Wyo., wife of a Union Pacific Railroad fireman, who has been paying her $50 a month since they separated last spring. Grieves' home is in Manhattan, Kan., where his father has been district superintendent of that conference since his transfer from St. Louis last March.

According to police, young Grieves and Mrs. Joy declared they eloped from Clyde, Kan., where they met at the home of mutual friends. Grieves, police said, admitted passing four checks, aggregating $40, in St. Louis, drawn on a Manhattan bank, in which he had no account. The Hudson coach in which he rode he said belonged to his father.

Hotel Bill Unpaid.

They left Kansas Sept. 20, according to their statements to police, and drove to St. Louis, where they stayed for two weeks at the Warwick Hotel, where they failed to pay the second week's bill. They spent a few days in a church camp at Ten Brook, Mo., and returned to the city late last week, when, Grieves declared, he began writing checks.

Friday afternoon Grieves cashed a $5 check in the Wyoming street drug store, where he was known to the proprietor, Walter C. Sandler. The youth's family formerly lived at 3945 Connecticut street.

Cashed Other Checks.

Sandler deposited the checks in the Tower Grove Bank, which queried Manhattan by wire and were told that the check was worthless and that young Grieves was wanted for automobile theft.

When Grieves and Mrs. Joy appeared yesterday with another check, Sandler called a policeman. The automobile was parked outside and is held by police, pending word from Manhattan. Grieves said he cashed two $10 checks and a $15 check in other stores.

Accident Costs Congressman $2700.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Representative W. T. Fitzgerald of Ohio, whose automobile struck a boy here several weeks ago, agreed in District of Columbia Supreme Court today to a verdict for $2700 damages against him.

SCOTT DURAND PLEADS FOR PAROLE FOR YOUTH

Tells Illinois Board That His Foster Son Did Not Commit Robbery.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 12.—Scott Durand, millionaire member of the Chicago Board of Trade, applied in person to the State Division of Pardons and Paroles today on behalf of his foster son, Jack Durand, who is serving a sentence in the State penitentiary for a robbery of which, the board was informed, he is innocent.

"I am not a lawyer," the millionaire foster father told the board, "I am not skilled in the art of the fictions of the old common law, but even a layman can tell you that when this boy did not see a gun nor have a gun and was not within several miles of the place of the robbery, he was not guilty of it."

"Holding up a woman with a gun is the charge. James Miller held her up, and he is free. Jack Durand, innocent, is in prison."

"I know this boy's character and I know that he will make a good citizen if let out. He has kept faith with me, who was on his bond. He could have dropped out of sight, yet he surrendered himself. I know of my own knowledge where he was the night in question, when Miller says he was with him for several hours. This could not be true."

"If Jack Durand is out he will be under my personal care and I pledge you to observe him well. And I can assure you he will not break faith with society and with me."

Attorney E. V. Orvis of Waukegan, supplementing Durand's remarks said that while the boy was never charged with doing anything but drive James Miller and Franklin Patterson to and from the P. Edson White home in Lake Forest, where the robbery occurred, he has been given full punishment while the two who were guilty of numerous crimes are both free. White is president of Armour & Co.

No opposition to the appeal for clemency was made by the State's Attorney of Lake County.

Col. John Pitcher Dies.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 12.—Col. John Pitcher, United States Army, retired, West Point graduate with class of 1876, Indian fighter and one-time superintendent of Yellowstone Park, is dead of heart disease at his country estate at South River, near here.

DESPOUND MAN ENDS LIFE

Herman Dunn Shoots Himself in Yard of Home.

Herman Dunn, 43 years old, a bookkeeper, walked into the yard of his home, 917 St. Louis avenue, at 7:30 p. m. yesterday and shot himself in the head. He was dead when his wife, Dora, ran into the yard from the kitchen, hearing the shot. She told police he had been despondent because of inability to find employment.

$15,000 Diamond Robbery.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Chicago's newest skyscraper, the Jewelers Tower, was the scene of a $15,000 diamond robbery today when three dapper men entered the office of Rud Noel, diamond appraiser, on the fourteenth floor and held up Noel and three associates, taking uncut gems. Detectives and police surrounded the building, but to no avail.

A wonderful miracle in your body!

EVERY night nature gives your body the power to rebuild itself. A wonderful miracle—but are you giving nature a fair chance? Take a look at the way you rest on your bedspring. Is your spine kept straight—or does your whole body sag? Do you help the body rebuild itself by throwing off the poisons of fatigue—or do you let these poisons slowly collect, undermining your strength and health?

Over a million people have asked themselves this question—and purchased Rome Quality "De Luxe" the Bedspring Luxurious. In this bedspring they get the secret of perfect sleep. It supports the body so gently that you almost seem to float. It gives you the blessing of deep, wholesome, health-building sleep every night of your life.

The dealer who sells Rome "De Luxe" renders humanity a true service. In justice to him as well as yourself, let no one sell you a substitute. It is so honestly built it keeps its resilience for a lifetime. Buy it for economy as well as health. The Rome "De Luxe" is sold and endorsed by good dealers everywhere.

THE BEDSPRING LUXURIOUS

The "De Luxe" way to sleep The wrong way to sleep

Note: There is only one genuine Rome Quality "De Luxe" and it is made only by The Rome Company. Look for the full name on the side of the spring before you buy.

BOY CELEBRATOR, HIT BY AUTOMOBILE, DIES

Emil Lueck, 15, Is Second Fatality in Demonstration After Cards' Victory.

The world championship celebration which followed the Cardinals' victory Sunday over the New York Yankees has resulted in another fatality, the second attributed to the occasion. Emil Lueck, 15 years old, of 4242 Lee avenue, died yesterday at City Hospital of a fractured skull suffered at 5:30 p. m. Sunday when struck by an automobile while he was in the street at 4200 Lee avenue tossing streamers over telephone wires.

Oliver Gaus, 15, of 4118 Margaretta avenue, who was celebrating with Lueck, was struck also. He is at American Hospital suffering from concussion of the brain and internal injuries.

The driver, Edward Walsh, 24, of 4811 Carter avenue, said he knocked Lueck and Gaus to the street in swerving his automobile sharply to avoid another youth. A coroner's verdict of accident was returned today and Walsh was released.

A coroner's verdict of accident was returned today in the case of William G. Troll Jr., 17, of 6979A Gravois avenue, who was killed Sunday night when he was brushed off an automobile running board when the driver drove too close to a street car. The automobile on which he was riding contained seven other young persons, all participating in the Cardinals' celebration.

Young Troll's father was city jailer for several years under former Mayor Kiel, and also served at one time on the Republican City Committee. He was a nephew of Harry Troll, former Public Administrator, and "Cap" Troll, politician and bondsman. His funeral will be held at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow from a mortuary at 3634 Gravois avenue to Lake Charles Cemetery.

Illinoisan Dies in Honolulu.
By the Associated Press.
NASHVILLE, Ill., Oct. 12.—Mayor D. H. Vernor has received a cablegram from Honolulu, saying that his brother, Edgar Vernor, 51 years old, who had been in the United States army for 30 years, died there from a paralytic stroke. He was the youngest son of the late Judge Vernor. His mother, who is 89 years old, and a sister also survive. The body will be brought here for interment.

Our Misses' Coat Shop Has Just Received a Re-Order Shipment

A COMPLETE new assortment of sizes and colors in these jaunty collegiate Coats, which are so much in vogue, is ready for selection Wednesday.

These Coats come in a mod-ish wool plaid on one side, with camel's hair in a design that cleverly simulates leopard or burunduki (Siberian chipmunk) fur on the other.
The plaid side of the Coat has collar, cuffs and pocket trim of the reverse side. The plaid comes in several color combinations.

Misses proclaim it an ideal Coat for school, campus, travel, utility and dress wear.
Sizes 14 to 20.

BORAH GIVES NEW REASON FOR ALIEN PROPERTY INQUIRY

Points to Decision of Supreme Court Upholding Sale of Chemical Patents
by Custodian.

"TIME TO CLEAN UP MESS," HE SAYS

Senator Declares Record of Alien Property Handling Is Sorry One, Encouraging Graft.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Senator Borah (Rep.) of Idaho, believes that the United States Supreme Court decision upholding the sale of seized German dye patents by the Alien Property Custodian to the Chemical Foundation gives added reason for investigation of the custodian's office.

He indicated that if the inquiry were undertaken Harry M. Daugherty, former Attorney-General, and Thomas F. Miller, a former custodian, would be among the first witnesses summoned. Borah is chairman of a special Senate committee to investigate the office, but has been unable to proceed because no funds were appropriated.

Asserting he did not care to comment on the outcome of the Daugherty-Miller trial in New York, the Senator said that "our whole record in reference to the administration of alien property is a sorry one."

"We have been foremost among the nations," he asserted, "in advocating the protection of private property against the ravages of war and against confiscation."

"It is now eight years since the war and we still hold this property from its owners. It has amounted to confiscation to hundreds of owners. Some of the instances of injustice and injury are beyond belief. It is no wonder that individuals look upon this property as legitimate prey. The more speedily we clean up this mess and do as near justice as we can the sooner we will give some evidence of living up to our professions."

Supreme Court Sustains Sale of Dye Patents.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The Government lost in the Supreme Court in the chemical foundation case.

The court yesterday sustained the sale of seized German chemical and dye patent, trademarks and copy rights to the Chemical Foundation by the Alien Property Custodian.

Discussing legality of the sale,
the court pointed out that A.
Mitchell Palmer, while Alien Property Custodian and later as Attorney-General, had advocated seizure and sale of the chemical industries of the enemy.

The opinion analyzed developments consummated by President Wilson's executive order of December 3, 1918, finding that Congress in the exercise of its war powers had delegated authority to the President, and that he had legally designated Frank E. Polk to act for him in the matter.

Order of Polk Upheld.
The order issued by Polk in February and April, 1919, authorizing the Alien Property Custodian to sell at private sale to the chemical foundation without advertisement and upon such terms and conditions as he deemed proper, were found by the court to be in accordance with law.

"The purpose of the trading with the enemy act was not only to weaken enemy countries by depriving their supporters of their properties," the court stated, "but also to promote production in the United States of things useful for the effective prosecution of the war."

The court found that contemporaneous conditions and war legislation indicated a purpose on the part of Congress to employ all legitimate means to the prosecution of the war and that the act under which the sale was made should therefore be liberally construed.

The court held that Congress was free to authorize the seizure, use or appropriation of enemy-owned properties without any compensation and did, as a matter of fact, make no provision for compensation and therefore German owners have no claim for compensation.

The court declared the inevitable conclusion must be reached that the President had power to authorize the sale and the Alien Property Custodian to make it.
Old Tires Put on Stolen Car.
When policemen last night found the automobile of James Dalafave of 1937 Victor street, who came here two weeks ago from Florida, and which had been stolen a hour before, they found the new tires had been removed from the machine and old secondhand ones substituted. The Florida license plates had been removed and were in the back of the car. The car was stolen from Theresa avenue and Washington boulevard and recovered at Twenty-first and St.
Charles streets.

Illustrated above is a man's solid 14-k. white gold open face model 17-jewel Waltham Watch with raised numerals of solid green gold. The border is exquisitely engraved with a scroll design.

MANUFACTURER DIES AT UNION STATION GATE

C. F. Ireland, 55, Officer of American Window Co., Collapses on Way to Train.

Charles F. Ireland, 55 years old, vice president and secretary-treasurer of the American Window Co. and an independent oil operator of Houston, Tex., collapsed and died at 10 p. m. yesterday as he passed through a gate at Union Station to board a train for Chicago.

Victor H. Borsodi and C. A. Lewis, president and chief engineer, respectively, of the American Window Co., who had been at Hotel Jefferson with Ireland and were to accompany him to Chicago for a business deal, arrived at the station a few minutes after Ireland's body had been removed to the morgue. They made the identification.

Police found $4.65, railroad tickets and a watch and chain on the body. Borsodi said Ireland usually carried $1000 to $2500 in currency. Lewis said he noticed Ireland had a large amount of money Sunday. Borsodi has retained private detectives to determine what became of the money.

Death is attributed to heart disease. The funeral will be at Paris, Ky., Ireland's birthplace. His widow, who was in New York, was notified.

INQUEST IN WOMAN'S DEATH

Doctor Calls Police Attention to Alleged Illegal Operation.

An inquest will be held in the case of Mrs. Anna Waili, 33 years old, who died at Baptist Hospital at 8:30 p. m. Sunday from the effects of an alleged illegal operation.

The case was called to the attention of police and the coroner by Dr. Francis Schaller, 6209 Gravois avenue, who was summoned to treat Mrs. Waili at 9 a. m. Sunday and ordered her removal to the hospital. Another physician named by Mrs. Waili before her death was arrested and released on bond pending the inquest. Mrs. Waili was the wife of Edward Waili and resided at 5132 Heege road.

HAWES MOVES UP THE DATE OF RESIGNATION TO FRIDAY

Action Permits Election of Successor Nov. 2 and So Saves State $25,000.

Harry B. Hawes, Democratic candidate for the United States Senate, today notified Governor Baker of a change of the date of his resignation from the Eleventh (St. Louis) District, from Dec. 1 to next Friday. His object is to enable election of a successor for the short term of Congress at the general election Nov. 2, and to save the expense, about $25,000, of a special election after Dec. 1 to choose a successor for the remaining portion of the short term.

It is not unlikely that the Congressional District Committee of the Democratic and Republican parties, which will nominate candidates for the short term, will select the present nominees for the long terms, Jack Cochran and Henri Chouteau, respectively. If Hawes' resignation as of Dec. 1 had been permitted to stand the Governor could not have ordered election of his successor for the unexpired term at the November election. Attorney-General Gentry today began preparing an opinion on the method of filling the vacancy caused by the resignation.

Weather Man Quits After 33 Years.
By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 12.—Resignation of Prof. J. H. Coonradt, as United States Weather Bureau observer at Decatur after 33 years' service, was announced here today by Meteorologist Clarence J. Root. Prof. Coonradt is the third oldest of the 31 Illinois observers, and is the only weather man Decatur ever has had.

How many words to the gallon?

SOME pens are regular ink eaters. They either leak or sweat, or spill good ink in wasteful blobs when you touch their points to paper. On the writing hand, however, there is the grateful and thrifty pen. The Wahl Pen. Takes a good, long, satisfying drink at each filling, and turns every speck of that ink to writing purpose. Oversize sac that holds more ink. 14-karat solid gold point, tipped with ever-wearing iridium. Perfect balance for tireless writing. Made with the nib you prefer—medium, fine, stub, stiff, flexible, oblique or Wahl Standard Signature. Red, black or mottled styles. Mandarin Red's the new popular.

CONGRATULATIONS FLOOD CARDINALS

Telegrams and Letters Pour In—Democrats Want Alex
for Speaking Tour.

Hundreds of telegrams and letters have poured in on Rogers Hornsby and his men since they won the world baseball championship. Before leaving New York, Hornsby had a thick bundle of congratulatory messages and were delivered to him and other members of the team each time the train stopped yesterday at important cities on the way westward.

Alexander continues to be the hero of the fan mail as he was the hero of the bleachers and grandstands.

Secretary Lloyd of the Cardinal club said this morning that there was a stack of letters for Alexander at the Sportsman's Park office. His pile of mail is larger than that for any other member of the team.

Will Appear at Movie Theater. He has been offered two jobs already. A real estate firm wants to add him to its sales force. The Democratic National Congressional Committee has wired that it would like to have Alexander take the stump for Democratic candidates with all expenses paid. A third job, of a temporary nature, has been accepted by the Cardinal star.

He will appear this week at the Ambassador Theater, making his bow and a little speech. Bottomley and Southworth have accepted similar engagements at the Missouri Theater. Skouras Brothers wished to engage the whole Cardinal team to appear at their theaters, but prior claims called most of the Cards away from town immediately after last night's celebration.

Old Alex is to figure in a sermon this week. D. Lauck Curran, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church of Owensboro, Ky., announced that he would choose as his text: "Lessons From the Life of Alexander on How to Win in the Game of Life."

Telegram From Democrats.

The telegram from the Democratic National Congressional Committee offering Alexander a job on the stump was signed by J. V. McClintic. He said:

"Because of your name, Grover Cleveland Alexander, I assume you are a Democrat; therefore, if I am correct, please wire me immediately if you will accept assignments to accompany some of our prominent speakers who are campaigning for the Democratic party. The Democratic party would consider it a great favor if you could aid us in the campaign."

The Chambers of Commerce of Kansas City and Terre Haute, Ind., have wired the Chamber of Commerce here their congratulations. The Syracuse (N. Y.) chamber, in the town where the Cardinal prospects have played for seasons, wired:

"Congratulations, St. Louis, from all Syracuse. Syracuse is proud of its alumni who played their part in the campaign."

Alexander, Thewenow, Bottomley, Bell, Hafey, Vick, Reinhart, Holm, Hallahan and Toporcer." Albert B. Hoffman of 3435 Virginia avenue had to push his friend, Raymond Killian in a wheelbarrow from his house to Jefferson avenue and Cherokee street and back, a distance of 22 blocks because that was the bet between them and Hoffman backed the Yankees. The news got about the neighborhood last night and a large crowd turned out to see the stunt. Hoffman and Killian bursqued it in costume for the benefit of grinning spectators.

From far-off Quebec in Canada came word today that the Investment Bankers' Association, meeting in convention there, had been stirred by news of a Cardinal victory. The morning paper, L'Evenement, written in French, carried an article on the game referring to "the great baseball match" and congratulated "Alexander le Grand." It related how Alexander le Grand had relieved Monsieur Haines and saved the match.

Fraternity Chapter Cheers Douthit; Dinner at the M. A. A.

The corner of De Baliviere and De Giverville avenues echoed last night to the collegiate yell of "Yay, Taylor Douthit—Yay, Taylor Douthit—" in honor of the center fielder of the victorious Cardinals. The cheer was from the throats of 60 members of his fraternity, Pi Kappa Alpha, of which he became a member when attending the University of California.

Douthit was entertained at dinner at the Missouri Athletic Association by the local alumnus chapter of the fraternity, then attended an initiation ceremony of the Washington University chapter, held at University Presbyterian Church. During the evening he visited the office of one of the alumni, a surgeon, to have a new dressing placed on the muscles of his back, which were severely strained in the fourth game of the series, when he and "Chick" Hafey collided in pursuit of a Yankee ball. The muscles still are causing him considerable pain, but he will recover from this shortly.

He departed today for his home, Oakland, Cal., to resume his vocation in the insurance business with his father.

A. F. OF L. REJECTS SMITH RESOLUTION

Declares as This Is Not Presidential Year There Is No Reason to Indorse Candidates.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 12.—The American Federation of Labor voted unanimously, without debate, yesterday, to withhold action on a proposal to indorse Gov. Smith of New York for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1928.

The convention approved, without debate, the report of its Committee on Resolutions, which pointed out that the country is not now in a presidential campaign and that Smith is not an avowed candidate for the presidency.

Report of Resolution.
The text of the committee report on the resolution follows:

"The American people are not at present engaged in a presidential campaign. Gov. Alfred Smith is at present a candidate for re-election as Governor of the State of New York. As such, he has the support of the New York State Federation of Labor and of an overwhelming number of unorganized wage earners and citizens. If we are to maintain strict adherence to our nonpartisan political campaign activities in presidential as well as other public official campaigns, we must of necessity withhold the formation and expression of judgments until the opportune and proper time presents itself, no matter how appealing or friendly the person or persons involved may be."

"For these reasons, your committee recommends the withholding of any action or expression upon this resolution in so far as it relates to any candidacy for President of the United States."

A declaration of the Federation's intention to wage unrelenting warfare against the foes of the direct primary was voiced in a resolution indorsing the expression of the executive council report on the primary, submitted a week ago.

Training Camp Attack Fails.
Two resolutions denouncing citizens military training camps as militaristic were rejected by the convention in favor of the expression contained in the executive council report that "it would be advantageous to all of the boys of our country to take advantage of the opportunity afforded them in these camps."

Reiterating the expression of previous conventions, the delegates unanimously approved a resolution urging re-trial of the cases of Nicholas Sacco and B. Vanzetti, convicted in Massachusetts for murder.

The convention approved two resolutions regarding Porto Rico. One urged establishment of a civil government under the Department of the Interior, to replace the present administration under the War Department's Bureau of Insular Affairs, and the other requested creation of a joint congressional committee to investigate conditions in the island.

Another resolution approved voiced opposition to any increase in postage rates on printed matter.

Explains Report on Smith.
Matthew S. Woll, a vice president of the Federation and secretary of the Committee on Resolutions, began his report today by reading a statement intended to clarify for a number of delegates the position taken by the committee yesterday in its report on the Smith resolution.

The report, which recommended withholding action, was approved by the convention just before adjournment last night.

"I want to say that the committee is unanimously of the opinion and judgment," Woll said, "that there is no man in official life who has served labor better, and the common people as a whole, in his capacity as Governor of New York than Alfred E. Smith, and that the committee did not turn down Gov. Smith, but rather we were hot in position, and it is improper at this time to consider any presidential candidate, no matter how favorably he might appear to us."

After approving two resolutions pledging financial support of the striking textile workers of Passaic, N. J., the delegates contributed $800 to a relief fund and pledged more than $2000 in future payments.

William Green, president of the Federation, interrupted the convention business to comment on the outcome of the Miller-Daugherty trial.

"It seemed quite impossible for the former Attorney-General to prove himself innocent," Green said. "It might be well to remind you that Mr. Daugherty was the Attorney-General who applied for and secured the most drastic and far-reaching injunction ever issued against a body of workers in this country."

Two resolutions urging modification of the immigration laws to permit admission of aliens seeking refuge from "political or religious persecution" were rejected today by the convention.

PLAN TO FORCE CUT IN COTTON ACREAGE BY LIMITING CREDIT

North Carolina Bankers Also Urge 5,000,000 to 8,000,000 Bales Be Held Until Price Is Stabilized.
By the Associated Press.
RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 12.—Extension of credit only to farmers who agree to reduce their cotton acreage by one-fourth next year is urged in resolutions adopted here by the Agricultural Committee of the North Carolina Bankers' Association.

The resolutions provide that the banks be asked to lend money for holding part of the present crop from the market until the price becomes stabilized when the farmers agree to the acreage reduction. Between 5,000,000 and 8,000,000 bales should be withheld, it was agreed.

Clarence Ousley, former Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, declared that "the time has come to force reduction in acreage by limiting credit, and for the bankers and merchants of the South to use their credit power to stop the cotton panic."

Representative John H. Kerr, Democrat, of the Second North Carolina District, joined in the movement for a special session of Congress to "fix the price of cotton, if necessary."

TWO HELD FOR KILLING OF GIRL

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Two men were held today in connection with the death of Miss Edna Bolt of Deatur, Ill., whose almost nude body was found behind the German Deaconess Hospital.

Patrick and Thomas Fleming were taken for questioning by detectives after an unidentified man said he had seen the girl shot and fatally wounded early yesterday an accidental victim, the bullet having been fired by her escort when he quarreled with another during a quarrel in the Fleming's tearoom on the West Side. The witness declared that Miss Bolt was patron.

SET FIRES FOR THRILL, 13 SOLDIERS TO PRISON

St. Louisan and East St. Louisan Among Those Sentenced for Arson at Fort Sill.

By the Associated Press.
LAWTON, Ok., Oct. 12.—Admitting that they set fire to buildings at Fort Sill, Ok., for a thrill, 13 soldiers were sentenced in Federal Court here yesterday to prison terms, ranging from two to 32 years. The fires last June and July are estimated to have done damage in excess of $2,000,000.

A youthful Secret Service agent, who came to the reservation as a recruit and whose identity was unknown to the officers, uncovered the arson ring.

Roy Gassaway of Texas received the heaviest sentence, 32 years, for five fires; Ollie Drake, whose home address is St. Louis, received 30 years for two fires; Thomas Evans, New Foundland, 20 years, two fires; John D. Marchi, Louisville, Ky., five years, one fire; Sylvester Sayeski, Wisconsin, five years, one fire; Leonard W. Beckler, East St. Louis, 15 years, two fires; Armand Marquis, First Field Artillery, address unknown, 22 years, three fires; Kelley Goff, Columbia, S. C., 20 years, two fires; Benton Carey, Oklahoma City, three years in reform school, as he is only 18 years old; Emmett L. Finch, Birmingham, Ala., two years, one attempted fire; John Guita, Boston, 12 years, two fires; Ernest W. Stamp, address not given, five years, one attempted fire; Bob W. Hiatt, Ada, Ok., five years, one fire.

CAMPUS BRIDE GETS DIVORCE

Mrs. Barbara Gamron of St. Louis Says Husband Beat Her.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Barbara Lindsey Gamron of St. Louis, a campus bride at Northwestern University in the spring of 1925, has been granted a divorce in the Superior Court from her husband, Willis E. Gamron of Wilmette, Ill. Mrs. Gamron charged cruelty, telling the judge that her husband had struck her while attending a graduation party at Culver Military Academy in June of this year and had repeated the chastisement several times since. Asked if she desired alimony Mrs. Gamron said she desired only her freedom.

Huddled Water Wants $25,000.
Suit for $25,000 damages against the Lindell Hotel Co., operators of Hotel Chase, was filed by Constantine P. Jonopole, a waiter, formerly employed at the hotel, who alleged he suffered great humiliation when a woman food checker in the kitchen peered into chafing dishes he was carrying to the dining room and remarked that waiters sometimes conceal food and then serve it and fail to account for it on the guest's check.

EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

American men and women guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to get out; they weaken from overwork; become sluggish, the result is blood clog and the result is general decline in health. Your kidneys feel like lumps on your back hurts; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the water is bad, begin drinking lots of water before breakfast. Take a tablespoonful of water before breakfast for several days and your kidneys may feel fine.

Salts is inexpensive, cannot make a delightful offering. It is a water drink and belongs to the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus relieving bladder disorders.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and small dark spots, possibly due to age or handling. A small, dark, irregular stain is visible near the top left corner, and another smaller mark is near the bottom left corner. The right edge of the page is heavily shadowed and appears to be part of a book binding, with some vertical lines suggesting the edges of other pages or the binding structure. The overall lighting is soft, highlighting the texture of the paper.

BOY, 8, HIT BY TRUCK DIES AT HOSPITAL

Everett Segasture, eight years old, of 3213 North Eleventh street, died of internal injuries at City Hospital at 10 o'clock last night, three hours after he was struck by an automobile as he was crossing Eleventh street, at Buchanan street.

The driver, John Schoellhorn, 22, of 1230 Waldron avenue, University City, told police he was driving north in Eleventh street at a moderate speed when the boy stepped from the curb and into the path of his machine.

Driver of Car Helps Injured Girl to Curb, Then Flees.

The driver of a Ford touring car, who stopped his machine just long enough to help a girl who had been knocked down at Eleventh and Morgan streets, at 5 p. m. yesterday, is being sought by police. The girl, Virginia Tanner, 15 years old, of 1206 1/2 Grattan street, is at City Hospital suffering from internal injuries and possible rib fractures.

She was knocked down when she walked in front of a street car and started to the curb on the north side of Morgan. After hitting her the driver got out of his car, carried her to the curb and placed her on the sidewalk. Then he remarked: "Say, you had no business crossing in front of that street car," after which he went back to his machine and drove away.

Ruby Duddy, 18, of 4308 Lee avenue, suffered internal injuries and several fractured ribs at 1 p. m. when struck by an automobile in front of 1516 Washington avenue. The driver, Louis Siesel, 56, of 4556 Clayton avenue, was arrested.

Ticket Scalping Cases Dismissed.

Three men, charged with scalping tickets for the final series between St. Louis and Pittsburgh late in August, which placed the Cardinals on top in the National League race, were dismissed this morning by Police Judge Rosecan, when they showed receipts for fines of $10 imposed by a Federal Court for the same offense. They are George Bournstein, 3020 Sheridan street; William Wels, 1034 South Kingshighway; and Isadore Sanders, 6327 Delmar boulevard.

THE REV. OWEN H. CLARK DIES

BRENNAN SEEMS TO HAVE A CHANCE TO BE ELECTED

Observer Says Democrat Will Win Senatorship in Illinois if Magill Is Able to Poll 150,000 Votes.

INDEPENDENT FAILS TO WORRY REGULARS

Smith Followers Say Eleventh-Hour Candidate Will Cut Into Democratic Vote and Will Get Only 50,000

By CHARLES MICHELSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—George E. Brennan has a very good chance to be Senator from Illinois. This may not sound like a very startling statement in the rest of the country, but in Illinois it starts a clamor in whatever company it is pronounced.

Brennan himself, sitting up as well as the plaster cast on his injured leg will permit, protests that only a stranger in the State could be so unimpressed by the political situation as to think there could be any doubt of his election, while around the various Republican headquarters the statement is positively dismissed as one that could be made only by a correspondent of a Democratic newspaper whose view must be diverted by his affiliations and associations.

Nevertheless, it is my belief the Chicago wet boss has the best of the situation at present, but not so much the best of it as the Democratic campaign authorities in Washington assumed on the advent of Hugh Magill as an independent try Republican in the race. They figure this appearance of a third candidate in the field makes it impossible that Frank L. Smith, the regular Republican candidate for the Senate, can be elected.

What Magill Does Big Factor. Apparently the decisiveness of the Magill intervention hinges on whether he can or cannot pile up 150,000 votes. If he does, it means the enormous vote factor in Cook County cannot be overcome by Smith in the down-State election. The Republicans say Magill will not get more than 50,000. The Democrats say 200,000 is a more reasonable figure.

Both sides cite the parallel of Roger Sullivan's essay at the senatorship to prove the indicated success of their respective candidates. In that essay, 12 years ago, Raymond Rolins, the third candidate, got 200,000. In that election also Cook County came out of Cook County with only 55,000 majority and lost the election by 17,000. The parallel does not hold for other contention, because women were not voting then, the Democratic party was split, and Sullivan and the Carter Harrison group were fighting for control of Cook County, while the Democratic house of today runs the whole Democratic show.

It is safe to say the size of the Magill vote is the one thing on which the election hinges. With that in mind, Brennan would have no show, despite the fact that Illinois is wet and that Smith, although chairman of the Public Utilities Board, had his campaign financed by Samuel Insull and the other public utility magnates—against whom there seems to be a provision in the Illinois criminal code—and the resentment of the supporters of Senator McKinley, who was authorized in the primaries by Smith.

On this account it is worth while to analyze the strength of the candidate who will obtain only a fraction of the vote of either of the other contestants. Magill Enthusiastically Dry. In Magill's favor it may be advanced that he is thoroughly and suitably respectable, so thoroughly Republican that he is remained regular when Roosevelt and the Progressive revolt that let Woodrow Wilson. He is more enthusiastically dry than Smith, and was picked for the race by the wets who were shocked at the disclosures before the Reed Committee.

Among his sponsors are Julius Rosenwald, alias Sears, Roebuck & Co., multi-millionaire philanthropist and uplifter; Harold Ickes, ex-Moose and manager of the most recent Hiram Johnson campaign; George E. Cole, Chicago's pioneer political reformer, and a host of prominent churchmen and college professors. So among his assets may be listed unlimited financial support, an excellent political record and the recent nomination by the Republican and the support of the Democratic plus the latter's minor participation in the county of Insull.

Against his vote—obtaining large proportions is the fact that the National League has ordered its members to dump for Smith on the

Filmy Houses in Florida.

THAT the hurricane in Florida wrought such havoc with the small houses is not to be wondered at, for many of them are built without cellars, the lower floor being one or two feet above the ground and open underneath. Some of them are built on stilts seven or eight feet above the ground, the space beneath being used for autos. Thus the storm lifted them bodily and blew them away like so much chaff.

That houses should be built in this fashion in a territory subject to hurricanes is indeed surprising. The reason they are built without cellars is, presumably, to keep them cool; also to protect them against snakes which wander from the Everglades. Needless to say, however, these houses will be rebuilt on the same plans, because people will forget about the big hurricane, which perchance may not come again for a century. Just as people forget about eruptions of volcanoes and rebuild their houses at the very foot of the volcano which buried villages several times before. What Florida needs is stringent building laws. GEORGE FENTRICK.

Snakes Now Fed Dead Pigeons.

SEEKING the National Humane Review for October that "a conviction with $25 fine was secured at Los Angeles for giving live hens to a snake which slowly crushed them to death."

Why not fine the director of the St. Louis Zoo for giving live pigeons to the reptiles? HUMANE.

The Post-Dispatch is informed that it has been found that the big snakes will eat dead pigeons. If the attendant moves them around, so as to give a semblance of life.—Editor Post-Dispatch.

Negro Housing and Death Rate.

FOR some weeks I have noticed articles in your paper with reference to the high death rate among Negroes from homicides and other causes. Also I know of two decisions, one by Judge Calhoun and another by Judge Ross, denying Negroes the right to live in the 4500 blocks on Cote Brilliante, notwithstanding they were law-abiding citizens who had purchased or rented property in the block.

I am just wondering if it would not be a good plan for the Post-Dispatch to sponsor the matter of getting the Chamber of Commerce, the Metropolitan Y. M. C. A., Real Estate Exchange, Church Federation, Board of Aldermen, Community Council of Social Workers and any other civic organization of similar importance to appoint a committee to make a personal visit through the section of the city east of Jefferson avenue and river section of that portion occupied by Negroes. Then have that same committee visit the West End section, inspect Poro College, inspect the Poro Finance Building. Of course, this committee would be accompanied by Negroes. Such a plan as this would at least suggest the contributing causes of the high death rate among Negroes and at the same time contrast the difference in these two sections where the Negroes are given an opportunity to live decently.

I am sure this committee will be convinced of the injustice of the present policy of the Real Estate Exchange in drawing the line so tightly as to prevent Negroes who desire better places to live. Your paper is fair-minded enough to give publicity to such a plan as will enable the white people to understand the problems of the Negroes in the City of St. Louis who want decent places to live. EDWARD L. SNYDER.

Traffic Troubles.

WILL you please advise us as to the party to whom to complain about the new parking regulations on Grand boulevard, from Easton south? Our customers are being arrested the minute they stop their machines. The law would be bearable if the police allowed a person to park at least 10 or 15 minutes to transact his business, but as it is now a man cannot stop his wheels before he is arrested and booked. It is injuring our business as well as that of other merchants and we wish to get in touch with someone in authority who may remedy the condition.

OLIVE CYCLE &amp; MOTOR CO.

R. G. Schmitt.

(You might bring the matter to the attention of Chief of Police Gerk at Police Headquarters, 208 South Twelfth boulevard.—Editor Post-Dispatch.)

The Sons of Erin.

WHY God loves the Irish.

1. Their love for Him.

2. They like their religion better than anything in life.

3. They are always in a good humor.

4. They have no hatred for anything but the devil. BETSY DONOHUE.

ONE BIG ISSUE.

In his survey of the political situation in Missouri, Richard V. Oulahan of the New York Times slipped into an error.

Mr. Oulahan said that there was no issue between the senatorial candidates in Missouri, except personal issues.

There is an issue, a decided issue, between the Democratic and Republican candidates for the United States Senate in Missouri. It is an issue that cuts wide and deep. That issue is the tariff.

Maj. Hawes, the Democratic candidate, is advocating substantial reduction of the Fordney-McCumber tariff. He says, in effect, it is a robber tariff, which filches from the pockets of all consumers, for the benefit of rich and powerful protected interests. The reduction of the tariff is one of the measures of relief for the farmers that Mr. Hawes advocates. He shows conclusively that the farmer, under the present tariff, must sell his products in an unprotected world market and buy his commodities in a protected home market. He receives a low price for what he has to sell and must pay a high price for what he has to buy. Thus the value of his money is cut in half.

Maj. Hawes points out that while the Government receives only about half a billion in revenue through the high tariffs levied under the Fordney-McCumber law, the people of the United States pay about $4,000,000,000 in higher prices, all of the excess over the taxes going into the pockets of the tariff barons.

Senator Williams, on the other hand, supports the plundering Fordney-McCumber tariff law and offers as his measure of relief for the farmers more tariff taxation. He wants a protective tariff for the farmers on farm products. That was tried, without success. The experiment was unnecessary. The farmers having a huge surplus to dispose of are not in a position to profit by protection. Except for a slight competition from Canada, the farmer is in no danger of a flood of agricultural products coming into the country in competition with his products.

The Post-Dispatch holds that the tariff is the greatest present national issue. It touches every citizen, and when we say touches we mean it not only affects every citizen, but touches his pocketbook.

The Post-Dispatch has exposed in a series of articles all the workings of the Fordney-McCumber tariff law. We have shown how it benefits the tariff barons who are in control of the Government, at the expense of all the people. We have shown how the Tariff Commission has been manipulated for the benefit of the protected interests. We have exposed the falseness of the plea that a high protective tariff is necessary to maintain American wages. We have demonstrated by actual facts that some of the most prosperous corporations in the United States, paying the highest standard of wages, have no tariff protection.

Jackson Johnson, chairman of the board of the International Shoe Co., the leading shoe manufacturers of the world, testifies that they have felt no need for a protective tariff. They do an enormous and profitable business, and pay the highest wages, without any protection. John J. Watson Jr., president of the International Agricultural Corporation, which produces fertilizer, supports the testimony of Mr. Johnson. Mr. Watson says they do a profitable business without tariff protection. He says they need no tariff protection, but are able to pay good wages and work their men under good conditions—so good that they never have had any trouble with their employees. That cannot be said for the protected industries.

The real political issues in this country are economic. The biggest economic issue is the tariff. We believe that when the people are thoroughly awake to the iniquities of the existing tariff law, when the farmers realize how it is robbing them, the tariff issue, as is in the Cleveland campaign and the Taft campaign, will become the deciding issue in the national election.

The tariff issue in the senatorial campaign in this State ought to be sufficient to elect Maj. Hawes.

HOW OLD IS ALEXANDER?

Grover Cleveland Alexander is called an old man at 39. He speaks of himself as old. He was without a peer in baseball before the war. He won a National League pennant 11 years ago. Grown men knew in their youth Alexander the Great.

Yet Alexander is not old. He is two years younger than Walter Johnson, who at 39 won a world series for Washington. He is younger than Walter J. Travis was when that intrepid oldster for the first time brought the British amateur golf trophy to America. He is 12 years younger than the celebrated "Iron Man" McGinnity was when that dauntless athlete was still good enough to win a championship for a Mississippi minor league team. The redoubtable Cy Young, 22 years in major-league baseball, was in full flight at 40.

We want to reassure Alexander. He is not old. Magnificent as his past is, a no less glorious future lies before him. We ask him to recall that Gounod was 80 when he wrote the opera "Faust." "Pop" Hindenburg was 85 when he won the battle of Tannenberg. Russell Sage was 45 when he crawled down from a bookkeeper's stool and began his financial career. De Morgan began his career as a British novelist at 65. How they all would laugh to hear this 39-year-old man call himself old!

Alexander never pitched better ball than he did in the final game at New York. He was never more sure of himself, never more the master than he was in that nerve-racking crisis. He was still Alexander the Great, his lustre undimmed by the years, his arm unshaken by time. The Cardinals are a young team, and Alexander is the greatest kid of them all.

A $500,000 LESSON.

The Daugherty-Miller trial ran from Sept. 7 to Oct. 11. Its preparation consumed many months and the cost to the Government of conducting it is estimated at $500,000. The failure of the jury to agree has nullified the whole proceeding, and it is possible the case may never be brought to trial again. All this looks like a trifling waste of time and money, but we do think some good has come out of it.

The public has seen an ex-Cabinet officer standing in the prisoners' dock for the first time. It has seen by his side a man once entrusted with high office under the accusation of misusing that office.

The public has read of the masses of circumstantial evidence piled up against Miller and Daugherty, and has listened to the weak and specious pleas of their attorneys.

Miller and Daugherty have not been convicted legally, but they have fared badly in the court of public opinion. The whole trial has been a valuable, if costly, lesson of the opportunity for graft enjoyed by the higher-ups and the importance of filling public office with men of honor and integrity.

THE POLICE PENSION AMENDMENT.

The police pension amendment, or Proposition No. 2, should have the hearty support of Missouri citizens when it comes to a vote on Nov. 2. It proposes to amend the State Constitution so as to permit legislation granting cities the right to establish a pension system for police officers, and the widows and minor children of deceased police officers.

We do not think anyone can find fault with the justice, fairness and desirability of this measure. For modest wages, city policemen are engaged in a highly hazardous calling, especially in these days of gunmen and gangsters. Death lurks around every corner and the city policeman must face it. Because of this insurance premiums are very high and many policemen find it impossible to guarantee their families against want in case they are killed or disabled.

The Police Department, moreover, is very much like an army. Only active men can carry on its work. Men who age and become decrepit in the service must be retired to make way for younger and stronger ones. No matter how many years a policeman has pounded a beat, or how faithfully he has discharged his onerous duties, he cannot now, under the law, receive a small income to sustain him in his declining days from the city to which he has devoted his life.

We wish to stress the point that Proposition No. 2 does not itself establish a pension system, to be financed from the State Treasury. It only proposes to give the cities of Missouri the right to take care of their aged officers and the families of those officers who die or are killed in the service. The money for this will come from city taxes. The farmer and all who live outside the big cities are not financially involved and would not be asked to vote on such an amendment at all if it were not that Missouri law vests the control of city police departments in the State.

At present the cities have tackled the problem of police relief in piecemeal and voluntary fashion. In St. Louis there is a policemen's relief fund, which draws its sustenance largely from the sale of tickets to the annual police circus. Such ways of handling the problem are obviously unsatisfactory, and should be replaced by an official pension system whose support rests equally on all the people.

The cities already have the right to pension their firemen, and they are now only asking that this right be extended so far as policemen are concerned. We sincerely hope the request is granted.

On Proposition No. 2, vote "Yes" and scratch "No."

After counting lines on everybody for a while, the St. Louis Advertising Club will have in to dinner tonight Senator James A. Reed, who will tell it how to get advertising.

INDIANA JOURNALISM.

After the silence of the press in Illinois and Pennsylvania while the ballot was being prostituted in the Republican primaries, it is a heartening sign that the press is still free when 19 Republican editors of Indiana will join in a demand that the corrupt Republican politics of the State be exposed.

Both the Indianapolis News, the biggest paper in the State, and the Indianapolis Star, a Shaffer paper, have been a little slow on the trigger in joining in the journalistic bombardment, but the Indianapolis Times was true to its responsibility. It is a Scripps-Howard paper, and one of the traditions of all the newspapers owned by the late Edward W. Scripps was that of freedom. He believed as Jefferson did that the press is the only censor government will ever have.

Country editors took the initiative in the Indiana exposure. Led by Editor Thomas Adams of the Vincennes Commercial, they forced the story into the open. They did this notwithstanding their own politics, which is in the best traditions of the American press. They showed the country press of Illinois and Pennsylvania what it might have done in an equal opportunity, and the servile country press of both those states stands rebuked.

The trouble with some of the Indianapolis papers is, of course, that they themselves are in politics. Silence was imposed upon them by their political associations, so that it was in Vincennes, a place of 20,000, rather than in Indianapolis, a city of some 325,000, that the battle had to begin.

They should be ashamed of themselves, as they may be sure that all journalists everywhere who prize the good name of journalism are ashamed of them.

Having annexed the baseball championship, the country ought to be comparatively easy.

It was on Oct. 12, 1492, or 434 years ago, that Columbus discovered America, which in turn discovered Alexander the Great.

Our next ambition is for Washington to produce a conference champion.

Apparently, the Indiana mess is news everywhere except in Indianapolis.

RONDEAU OF FOIBLES.

To question airs the young folks flout.
October is our favorite month, but not an October such as this. The air of October should be a solemn stillness, the leaves should be a haze on the distant horizon; in short, Nature should so contrive things in October that man drop his usual occupation for a few minutes and senses that something is about to happen. October is the month for musing, day dreaming, guesses as to that "undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveler returns."

But when October wrongs us, turns us down cold (and damp) it ruins our optimistic outlook and all the football fields in the vicinity. We have a remedy for depression—music.

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast,
To soften rocks or bend a knotted oak."
We played "Pinafors" and that dismal feeling began to leave our savage breast;
we continued with selections from "The Prince of Pilsen" and our heart grew light; with the playing of "The Merry Widow" we resumed our habitual gaiety. By what fatal freak of returning cheerfulness did we next chance on "Robin Hood." All went well until some one began to praise brown October ale. Reginald de Koven, what hast thou done? We stood it as long as we could, memory conjuring up some ale that we had had when the old gray mare was what she used to be, and then went for a walk, dismaller than ever. Music hath charms, yes, but only when the music does not conflict with Mr. Volstead by bringing back a dear dead day beyond recall.

DO IT NOW; WE HAVE STREET FIGHTS.

First Tancy County Street Fights.

Dear One: I have seen a house fly, a tree box, and an ear muf, but when I see a street fight, I am going to swear off.

ED. P. CROWE.

A local minister says that the modern wife is seldom a helpmate. Then he goes on to say that there is a difference between what a man expects of a woman during courtship and what he expects of the same woman after marriage. That, it seems to us, puts the blame up to the men, who expect the girls to be good scouts before, and good cooks after. If love is blind, and marriage restores the sight, what is needed is a pre-nuptial sight treatment. On the other hand, the modern girl has no pretensions, so that a man is to be blamed if he does not know what he is getting. It is all a very vexing question.

The cotton growers need bailing out.

Orden L. Mills, Republican candidate for Governor of New York, charges Al Smith with responsibility for New York's milk scandal. Now that St. Louis has the world's championship, we demand a campaign on fluid issues which are not fluid;
we demand a campaign that is not so bankrupt of issues that it must go into liquidation.

The executive of a California estate which consists of 5930 gallons of wine wants court permission to destroy it, as it is a source of trouble, expense and danger. Strange as it may appear, the thought of such an estate is a sobering thought.

Kipling's Vineyard seems to have yielded only a small quantity of sour grapes.

Indiana has the tightest State dry law in the United States. The Ku Klux Klan and the Republican party. A gradual conversion to the paths of righteousness is better than so sudden a turning to all the elements that make for good.

Marion Talley set a record at Des Moines,

he hears the news.

THE BROWN OCTOBER.

A few evenings ago we felt depressed.
October is our favorite month, but not an October such as this. The air of October
should be a solemn stillness, the leaves
should be a haze on the distant horizon; in

in the hollow of his hand?

Today, Queen Marie sails to discover America.

WHAT THE EXPERTS MIGHT SAY.

Arthur Brisbane: St. Louis won the world's championship. This is good news for some people. What the United States really needs is an adequate air force. We have the championship ball teams, but Europe has the air force.

George Jean Nathan: The power of the bourgeoisie is increasing. St. Louis is in the center of the cow states, comes East and wins a world's championship. But anyone who is interested in that stuff is a moron.
Senator Butler: So St. Louis won the world series. Well, it only goes to show that we need a higher tariff and that the West is solidly behind the party of property and progress.

THEY ALSO SERVE WHO ONLY STAND AND WAIT.

Dear Sir: Can you see why this fellow received a writup when he never plays?
CLEVELAND, Oct. 10.—Bill West, captain of the Western Reserve University football team, has never failed to miss a single minute of play.—

It seems that the flexible tariff is flexible only when going in one direction.

HARD SLEDGING FOR THE LEAGUE.

From the Omaha Bee.

A LEAGUE of Nations at Geneva is finding other bumps in the road. A resolution to the effect that the limitation of immigration should not be considered a subject for discussion in the League of Nations was adopted by the League of Nations. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 12 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 12 to 10. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 12 to 10.

PHONOGRAPH AND RADIO.

From the New York Times.

THE case of the phonograph against the radio can be best presented by the phonograph at its best. As yet the rubber disk has infinitely the richest variety of high-class music at its command compared with Caruso and the other mortals. And even if the radio comes to enlist the services of as high talent as is recorded on the phonograph, the latter will always have the advantage of unlimited access and unlimited encores. Caruso's phonograph record is always at hand, always willing to repeat, and never out of voice.

THE NEW TAMMANY.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

JUDGE ROBERT F. WAGNER, who was an immigrant lad, who got started selling papers and grew up in the lower East Side. So far he is a typical man, but he wears a Phi Beta Kappa pin, which stamps him a representative of the new Tammany that no longer takes its rank and its "P's and Q's" as fully as it can its precincts.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS NEARLY PERFECT

M. Wagner, New Head of Board, Says He Will Suggest No Changes.

It seems to Stephen M. Wagner, who tonight will be elected president of the Board of Education of the public schools in St. Louis, that the schools are nearly perfect as they are. "Absolutely as perfect as can be," he said. "I don't think there will be any changes suggested, no statement of policy on his tenure. 'Everything is going nice and easy,' he said. 'I think, perhaps, that there should be more typewriting and shorthand taught, because the purpose of education, as he sees it, is to fit boys and girls to be business men and women. 'But those are my views,' he added. 'The public seems satisfied with the schools as they are and that is all I am after. If the public is satisfied, I am satisfied.'"

Wagner, himself, was denied the position for a business career. He thinks the schools should be for the pupil. He was forced to leave school at the age of 10 years. He went into a wholesale goods house and now is a broker of dry goods. He is 54 years old.

Views of His Duties. During the course of an interview with a Post-Dispatch reporter, Wagner gave some of his views of the duties of members of the board in general and of the president in particular.

"I am no educator," he said. "I am not an educator. Our duties are executive and financial. After we are nothing but business men. We hire the superintendent. He is supposed to conduct the educational affairs of the schools. The charter of the board of education requires the board to select or reject the policies of the superintendent for the teaching of the schools and general conduct of the schools."

"If I think his policies are right, I will vote for them," Wagner said. "I think they are bad, I will put them down. Of course, a superintendent should know the last reorganization of the board. For instance, my position was that if he wanted to put the plan, it was all right. I would try it two or three months and see. If it isn't right, we will get complaints. Then we can tell him to change it."

Everything Running All Right. "I don't see any need to do anything any different than they are doing now," he said. "Everything is running along all right. To tell the truth, I didn't want to be president. I might suggest a conference of the board members once a month to pass on all large questions. Otherwise, I don't see any chance for a change. When executive or financial questions come up, I will just say my head. We are only business men and it is a hard proposition for business men to suggest policies in education. I have no objection to education, but I don't want to conduct it."

Wagner thinks that the board should build more high schools and smaller ones. He thinks that the board should go as short a distance from their homes as possible. "I don't want to build them closer than they are," he said.

Wagner conducted Experiment. To illustrate his belief that more typewriting and typewriting is needed in the schools, Wagner selected a high school pupil and had him type a business letter. "I gave them a dictation. The business college and girls had it all over our boys and girls. There, I said to the student, 'read those and those men have had no education and they need well-educed boys and girls in their offices.'"

500,000 COLLECTION OF STAMPS REACHES NEW YORK

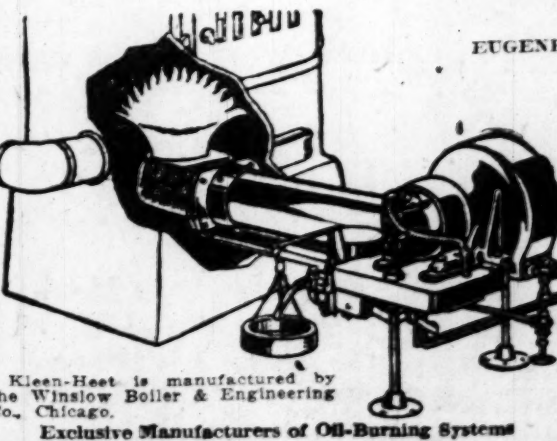

From England for Philatelist Group Once Owned by Late Earl of Bess.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—What is to be the most valuable collection of stamps to be sent to England in many years, valued at $250,000, was brought here today by a group of English philatelists, headed by F. J. Melville, of London.

Melville said the stamps represented the dream of all the collectors in England and will be shown at the Central Palace Saturday. The international philatelist show will open.

Among the most interesting of the stamps in the collection, Melville said, was the property of late Earl of Bess. The stamps were his execution. The collection was stolen, and a few years ago appeared in the hands of a stamp collector. It was sold on the London market and recently purchased by an English collector. Melville said that the value of the stamps runs, it is estimated, between $200,000 and $250,000. The collection includes the historic background stamps of the British empire, and a few years ago appeared in the hands of a stamp collector. # How to make TEA correctly

Firstly

Be sure you use India Tea, or a blend containing India Tea.

Secondly

Use an earthenware teapot, and put into it one good teaspoonful of India Tea for each cup of tea required.

Thirdly

Be sure you pour the water into the teapot the moment it boils. Only fresh boiling water can bring out the true flavour of the tea. Hot water is noise. Water that has been boiling for some time does not give the best results. This is important if you want a really good cup of tea.

Fourthly

Allow the tea to stand 5 minutes to infuse. Put a little cream or milk into each cup before pouring out the tea. It greatly improves the flavour. Then add sugar to taste.

Any retailer or store can supply you with India Tea or blends containing India Tea. He has no difficulty in getting it, as practically every wholesale distributor of tea in this district supplies India Tea. He will gladly get it for you—but—

Be sure you use INDIA TEA or a blend containing India Tea

He was Distinguished for Efficient Record and by Handsome Appearance.

The funeral of Police Captain Edward J. Doyle, 49 years old, a policeman since 1899 and one of the youngest Captains on the force, who died yesterday evening at his home, 524 North Newstead avenue, after two and a half months' suffering from high blood pressure and nervous breakdown, will be at 8 a. m. Thursday. Services will be held in the New Cathedral and burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, with full police honors.

frank ground that, although Magill is perfectly satisfactory as a bone dry, the effect of his candidacy is to make possible the election of Brennan.

This immediately opens a big question: Will the Republicans who are seeking a way to escape voting for Smith because of the primary scandal, subordinate their qualms at the direction of the Antislavery League or will they go ahead and vote for the dry who is unfurnished by Insull money and thereby contribute to the election of Will Brennan?

At the opening of Magill's campaign things were most polite between him and the Antislavery League, but when Magill refused to withdraw, the Rev. George B. Safford charged a $400,000 slush fund had been raised for the Rosenwald entry.

"This," replied Magill, in a letter to Safford, "is of course a grotesque falsehood, and was known by you to be such when you peddled it to Frank L. Smith and gave it to the press."

Magill's challenge to Drys. Whereupon Magill offered the Anti-Saloon League the privilege of checking the receipts and expenditures of his organization on condition the League extend to him the same courtesy. "So that we may make public the sources and amounts of your receipts and the sums you are using to supplement Mr. Insull's generous contributions in behalf of Mr. Smith."

Magill goes right on stressing that Smith has control of the very public utilities—their stock issues, rates, etc.—that paid his primary bills, and asks what would be thought of a Judge who accepted $125,000 from a man being tried before him for his life.

He likewise persists in putting the annoying question: "What is the sense of electing a Senator who will not be permitted to take his seat?"

The Republicans say Magill, while an annoyance, is not a serious complication in the campaign; they assert he will get most of his votes in Cook County and will draw more heavily on Brennan than on Smith for them.

Another argument they adduce for their own comfort is that Magill is a liability to Brennan, as the people who will vote for the reformer against the regular Republican would have voted for Brennan if Magill had not gone in and therefore only half as dangerous.

These elements that have been so roughly sketched are all ponderable and capable of reduction to factors in estimating the outcome in Illinois, but there are in the background all sorts of intangibles like the soreness of the Crowe-Barrett faction of the Republican party, the holdover bitterness of the McKinley supporters, and the tale of a deal between Brennan and this local faction by which votes for him are to be traded for county offices, which is denied as strenuously as that other apocryphal agreement between Al Smith and Wadsworth.

Brennan Denies Deal.

Brennan says the only truth in this is that the Barrett-Crowe faction is wet, like the rest of Chicago, and naturally many of its members will vote for him in preference to a dry; and as for the rest of it, a probate clerk in Cook County is worth more to the organization than a Senator in Washington, and nobody except a political moron would make the trade that is attributed to him.

The reiterated declaration that Frank Smith will not sit in the Senate even if the election goes his way infuriates Illinois Republicans. The Democrats keep poking at them that if and when Smith gets his desk from the Senate his successor will be appointed by Gov. Len Small.

With rather eminent Republicans whispering to him that the divisions in their party make it impossible for Smith to get anything like the full strength of the votes that ordinarily would come to him and equally eminent Democrats telling him in confidence that Brennan in the hospital all sorts of jobs will be put over on him, the best an observer can do is to cancel out the rumors and make the deduction from the solids, and that precipitate gives, in my opinion, that George Brennan, in or about out of a sick bed, will get the 100,000 or 150,000 he expects from Cook County, will carry the adjoining districts that went for Coolidge in the presidential year, and will attain a northern lead that Smith cannot overcome in the south. That is today. It may not be a true deduction three weeks hence.

SUIT TO UNCOVER $1,000,000 ASSETS FOR ROSSI ESTATE

Daughter of Late Wholesale Grocer Directs Petition Against Two Brothers and Sister Holding Deed.

A petition to uncover assets belonging to the late Simon D. Rossi, 75 years old, a wholesale grocer, was filed in Probate Court today by Mrs. Teresa R. Davis of the Delmonico Hotel, a daughter.

The petition is directed against her brother and sister, Victor R. Rossi of Clayton, and Mrs. Mae R. Hasemann, 2806 Osage street, who claim to hold title to the property of their father by virtue of a trust deed made about five years ago. It is contended in the action that, notwithstanding the trust, the property embraced by it, estimated at nearly $1,000,000 in value, should be inventoried as part of Simon Rossi's estate.

A. R. Russell of the law firm of Laughlin, Frumberg, Russell & Blodgett, representing the plaintiff, says the property consists of valuable parcels of realty in this city, including the Woodbine Hotel, at 504 Delmar boulevard, realty at Skinker road and Delmar, and at Taylor avenue and Delmar. It is held by a corporation, the stock of which is controlled by the trustees. This stock has a par value of $400,000. The citation also seeks to have listed as part of the estate to be administered 120 shares of stock of the Rossi Grocery Co., 1412 North Broadway.

Rossi died Dec. 6 last but administration was not taken out on his estate until several weeks ago, when Mrs. Davis, on her application, was appointed by Judge Holtcamp as administratrix. No assets standing in her father's name could be found, it having developed he conveyed everything to the trustees some time before his death, retaining a life interest in the income, estimated at $60,000 to $70,000 a year.

But the administratrix is proceeding on the theory she is entitled to list the trust property among the assets of the estate for equal distribution among the heirs, including Mrs. Madeline Rossi, 6215 Delmar boulevard, the widow; five daughters, five sons and a grandson, Harold G. Johnson, who is 20 years old. They are the beneficiaries named in the trust, which Mrs. Davis' counsel construes the same as a will.

Trust Said to Violate Law.
Since the trust deed cuts off with $1 any beneficiary who should attempt to set it aside, no direct attack is made by Mrs. Davis in the present proceedings.

The Cardinals' record trip from St. Louis to New York

What made possible the Pennsylvania's run of 1052 miles in 21 hours 22 minutes

THE Pennsylvania Special which carried the Cardinals came through in record-breaking time for the 1100-mile run and landed... the warriors in to-morrow's battle here, in twenty-one hours and twenty-nine minutes.

"THAT'S traveling. It never has been done before."

From the New York World of Saturday, October 9th.

In some details this account is inaccurate: the exact distance is 1052 miles, the exact time was 21 hours and 22 minutes, and remarkable as was the trip of the Cardinals' special train, it did not actually set a new record. On November 16, 1925, another Pennsylvania train made the run in 20 hours and 28 minutes, almost an hour faster than that made by the baseball special.

Certain factors made possible these records:

First, the Pennsylvania is the shortest line from New York to St. Louis just as it is the shortest line from New York to Chicago —lines kept by constant care in condition for efficient operation.

Second, skilful co-ordination of over 200,000 workers on the Pennsylvania's 11,000 miles of line, makes it possible to operate the largest fleet of passenger trains in America and still send this special through safely at such speed. This co-ordination is the result of many years' experience in the operation of fast, de luxe trains ranging from the first limited train ever run, the Pennsylvania Limited put in service 45 years ago, to the superb limited trains of today, like the Broadway Limited to Chicago and The American to St. Louis.

Other Recent Pennsylvania Records

New York to Chicago—16 hours 53 minutes

June 29, 1926

St. Louis to New York—20 hours 28 minutes

November 16, 1925

On the day of the World's heavyweight championship fight The Pennsylvania carried 31,888 passengers from New York to Philadelphia.

The Pennsylvania carried 17 out of every 100 passengers transported by rail anywhere in the United States during 1925.

A remarkable record was set last Friday. But the Pennsylvania's real service lies in the regularity, the dependability, with which its 3800 daily passenger trains link together the cities and towns of the United States.

JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT ALLOWS FUTURE TRADING IN MISSOURI

Federal Court at Kansas City Restrains Attorney-General from Enforcing State Law.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 12.—A default judgment was handed down in Federal Court here yesterday, restraining Attorney-General Gentry from enforcing the Missouri grain futures act of 1907 against the St. Louis Merchants' Exchange and the Kansas City Board of Trade. The law was designed to restrict trading in grain futures through a tax of 25 cents per transaction. The plaintiff organizations contended this business was not subject to State regulation. Taxes under this law have been impounded during pendency of the suit and will be refunded now, it is expected.

The Kansas City and St. Louis bodies were associated in the action filed last Feb. 12. Gentry's motion to dismiss, filed April 12, was rejected and he was given until May 14, to file an answer to the Board of Trade's action which he failed to do. Accordingly judgment in the board's favor was given yesterday.

A Federal law also prohibits future trading except that it permits the Secretary of Agriculture to designate certain markets where such trading is permissible. Both the St. Louis and Kansas City markets have been so designated.

MUCH SPACE IN PARIS PRESS TO WINSTON SPEECH

Assistant Secretary Told Bankers It Was to American Interest to Stabilize European Credit.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 12.—The debt commission of the Chamber of Deputies met for the first time today and began studying the funding agreements made in Washington and London.

The address of Garrard B. Winston, Assistant Secretary of the American Treasury, before the Bankers' Club of Kansas City yesterday is given the greatest prominence the French press ever accorded to any American speech, with the exception of President Wilson's famous war pronouncement in April, 1917. The Paris papers publish long front page accounts of the speech.

It is understood that M. Darlac, chairman of the Chamber's Debt Commission, mentioned Winston's address at today's meeting, calling attention to its conciliatory and sympathetic tone.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 12.—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Winston, in an address yesterday before the Bankers' Club of Kansas City, said:

"If the time should come when credits are sought for the program of stabilization in France, Italy and Belgium, or if it should be desirable to float a loan in this country, it would be clearly to our interest that this help be extended."

"We in America have the money and with our large market abroad we will benefit greatly through stabilization in Europe. These credits are not granted by the Treasury, but by the Federal Reserve Banks in connection with the banks of issue of other stable countries and by private American bankers."

Winston said the time had come when France, Italy and Belgium must decide whether they will destroy all values by unwise policies or put their house in order.

BRITISH LABOR SUFFERING FROM STRIKE AFTERMATH

Leaders Report Thousands Unemployed and Other Thousands Working Only Part Time.

By the Associated Press.

MARGATE, England, Oct. 12.—Some of the difficulties which British labor is suffering as an aftermath of the general strike last May were revealed today by union leaders at a labor party conference here.

During debate on the question of raising funds to help striking coal miners, J. H. Thomas of the Railway Men's Union, said that the railroad workers were unable to meet the levy assigned them, as 45,000 of them have not gone back to work since May 1, and 200,000 are working only three days a week.

Ben Tillet reported that the transport workers had spent about $5,000,000 in the dispute and were about $2,500,000 in debt. He said there were 80,000 transport workers without employment and 100,000 working only part time. Consequently, he felt, it was impossible to obtain the requested levy from members of the union.

FORMER FRIEND OF HIS SON PARDONED BY GEN. WOOD

MANILA, Oct. 12.—Sidney P. Schwartzkopf, Manila attorney, was pardoned by Governor-General Wood yesterday after serving 18 months of a three-year sentence in Bilibid prison for embezzlement of $70,000 from the Puliton Iron Works of St. Louis, which manufactures sugar machinery sold extensively in the Philippine Islands.

Schwartzkopf pleaded guilty in April, 1925. At the time it was reported that as attorney for the company he collected the money from the Binalagan Sugar Estate on an old account and lost it in bucketing stock market, tip of Governor-General Wood's son, Osborne Wood.

Schwartzkopf had been the younger Wood's attorney during the latter's meteoric business career in Manila. He came to the islands as a volunteer soldier, ranked his class in bar examinations, but was frequently a member of gay parties given by Osborne Wood.

FORTUNE TELLER SAYS WOMAN WILL KILL SELF AND SHE DOES

Detroit Police Hunt Seer; Coroner Attributes Suicide to Power of Suggestion.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Oct. 12.—Police have begun a search for a fortune teller who predicted Mrs. Victoria Jayebisk, 30 years old, would kill herself yesterday. Mrs. Jayebisk took poison last night and died, a victim, the coroner believes, of suggestion.

The fortune teller, the coroner says, will be held criminally responsible.

NEW DIRIGIBLE FORCED TO LAND

LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 12.—The new J-3 naval dirigible was forced to make an emergency landing on the naval air station field today when one of its motors stalled and the other began to misfire. No damage was done and the nine men aboard were uninjured.

The J-3 is a 120-foot nonrigid ship. It was assembled at the naval air station and had its first test flights last week. It is in command of Lieut. C. H. Havill of Lakewood and six of the nine men on board were officers who were receiving training in the operation of the ship.

BABY HELD FOR BILL RELEASED

Court Writ Forces Chicago Hospital to Return the Baby to her.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Margaret Demardes today regained possession of her 22-month-old son, George, who was being held in a hospital because she was unable to pay a balance on a bill for treatment for the child for a fall from a third-story window.

She obtained a writ of habeas corpus and forced the hospital to return the baby to her.

Mother can rest easy after giving this harmless, "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and they don't love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

WISCONSIN SUPREME COURT APPROVES BEER REFERENDUM

Citizens Have Right to Express Will to Congressmen and Legislators, Says Decision.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 12.—Citizens of Wisconsin have a right to express their will to their representatives in Congress, as well as to their representatives in the Legislature, the State Supreme Court held in an opinion by Justice E. Ray Stevens, amplifying the recent decision of the court holding the 2.75 per cent beer referendum legal.

The court said it was entirely within the power of the Legislature to order a referendum by a joint resolution. A short time ago the court announced that it had denied an application to prevent the referendum.

To the claim of the Antisaloan League that prohibition was up to the Federal Government solely, the court declared that the "Federal Government is our Government none the less because we have a subordinate independent government of our own within it. The enforcement of the prohibition amendment within the field in which the Legislature has concurrent power with Congress."

SUES CHURCH FOR $10,000, ALLEGING PLOT TO OUST HIM

Farmer of Red Wing (Minn.) Says Refusal to Bury Daughter Drove Wife Insane.

RED WING, Minn., Oct. 12.—Testimony before a jury has begun in a suit for $10,000 damages filed by Diedrich Tipke, a farmer, who charges that conspiracy resulted in his expulsion from St. Peter's Lutheran Church at Belvidere, Minn. The Rev. George Ferber, pastor; Henry Welbusch, one of the church officers, and the church organization are defendants.

Tipke alleges that the pastor and Welbusch plotted to have him removed from the church, that burial of his daughter in the church cemetery was forbidden and that as a result his wife went insane.

The defendants explain Tipke's ejection from the church in 1922 was a result of alleged false accusations made by Tipke relative to the disposition of church monies.

COOLIDGE EXTRAVAGANCE BARS TAX CUT, DEMOCRAT DECLARES

Senator Gerry Says Republicans Extend No Hope of Early Relief for Average Man.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The only hope of tax relief for the average citizen lies in the election of a Democratic Congress next month, Senator Gerry of Rhode Island, chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Committee, said today in a statement.

"We are still collecting revenue on an excessive basis created during the war," Gerry said. "What-ever tax reductions have been made by the Republicans were due to the fact that war expenditures were over and not to any economies by the Republican administration."

"But though war expenditures are over, Coolidge extravagance goes on. The normal costs of Government are mounting under his leadership."

One Bottle Beats 16 Years of Baths

"Have been trying for 16 years to get my colon cleaned out. Have taken internal baths and used all kinds of medicines. Have taken a bottle of Adierka, and am thankful that I have found something to restore my health."—Frank Ott.

Because Adierka acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, it gives the system a REAL cleansing and clears out old poisons which usually cause sour, gassy stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache. Just ONE spoonful stops GAS, and relieves that full, bloated feeling so that you can eat better and sleep better.

Even if bowels move daily, Adierka brings out much additional poison which you never guessed was in your system and which may have long caused trouble. No matter what you have tried for stomach and bowels, Adierka will surprise you. At leading druggists. In St. Louis at Wolff-Wilson Drug Stores.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no griping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 10c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.

JOHN ADAMS PECK DIES AFTER AN OPERATION

Realty Dealer Was 67 Years Old and Was Member of Pioneer St. Louis Family.

The funeral of John Adams Peck, real estate dealer of 5212 Maple avenue, will be a 9 a. m. tomorrow at St. Mark's Catholic Church. Page boulevard and Academy avenue. Interment will be in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Mr. Peck died yesterday at St. John's Hospital following an operation last Friday for removal of the appendix and gall bladder. He was 67 years old and was born and reared in St. Louis.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Peck, pioneer residents of St. Louis. He was educated at Washington University and at Illinois Industrial University. His first employment was as a buyer for the drug firm of Jacob S. Merrill, but later he became associated with his father in the real estate business. He served as Commissioner of Deeds for all states, territories and United States possessions more than 20 years ago.

After his father's death Mr. Peck served as trustee of his estate with offices in the Wainwright Building. He was a member of the Real Estate Exchange, the sons of the American Revolution and the Patriots of America. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Dewar Peck, and two sisters, Mrs. Rebecca P. Dusenberry and Mrs. Max M. Bryant of Vandeventer place.

GOV. FUQUA OF LOUISIANA DIES AT BATON ROUGE

Suffered Internal Gastric Hemorrhages; Funeral Arrangements Await Arrival of Widow.

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 12.—Arrangements for the funeral of Gov. Henry L. Fuqua of Louisiana, who died here last night, were to be made today following the arrival of Mrs. Fuqua, who has been in Clarksdale, Miss.

Members of his immediate family and a few close friends were at his bedside in the executive mansion when death came, which was caused by internal gastric hemorrhages. The illness, from which he had been suffering only a few days, had not been regarded as serious. His last visit to the executive offices was made Friday and he was unable to conduct official business Saturday.

Lieutenant-Governor O. H. Simpson was sworn in as Governor last night by Chief Supreme Court Justice Charles A. O'Neill.

What Mr. Fuqua characterized as the outstanding act of his tenure of office was the enactment of legislation prohibiting the wearing of masks and, during the two years he was Governor, he had the opposition of the Ku Klux Klan.

He was born Nov. 8, 1845, at Baton Rouge, was educated at Louisiana State University, and in 1890 married Miss Laura Matta. Besides his widow, he is survived by two children, Mrs. Walter Scott of Tallulah, La., and Henry L. Fuqua Jr., a student at Louisiana State University.

MELLON MUCH IMPRESSED BY PREMIER MUSSOLINI

Secretary of Treasury Says Italian Dictator Is One of World's Most Vigorous Personalities.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 12.—Premier Mussolini is "making a new nation of Italy" in the opinion of Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury.

The Secretary here yesterday to speak at Founder's Day exercises of the H. J. Heinz Co., said he had been much impressed by the Premier whom he met on a recent European tour.

"He is one of the world's most vigorous personalities," Mellon said. "Many of his measures are unique indeed. But they are effective and he certainly is making a new nation out of Italy."

Asked whether he thought Mussolini's work sound enough to stand on its own merits without the aid of the Premier's personality, the Secretary replied in the affirmative.

"It is sound and there should be time enough for him to build strongly. He is a young man yet." And then added: "That is, of course, if they stop throwing bombs at him."

YOUTH GIVEN MAXIMUM SENTENCE FOR BURGLARY

Fred Clifford Convicted of Stealing $750 Worth of Clothes from Retailer.

Fred Clifford, 19 years old, of 4612 Margaret avenue, yesterday was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary, the maximum penalty, by a jury in Circuit Judge Wardman's court at Clayton, which found him guilty of burglary.

He was observed by a deputy constable March 2, riding in a Ford touring car in a vacant tract in Normandy. The constable trailed him to the home of H. J. Lauxman, 351 Tower Grove drive. Behind a suspicion, he was watched but not arrested until after he had driven away from the house. It developed that $750 worth of clothing was missing.

St. Louis detectives arrested him when he drove the automobile to a rent-a-Ford place in St. Louis. He refused to admit the burglary but did not take the stand yesterday.

UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

Winnsboro Mills, Winnsboro, S. C.
These cotton mills, controlled by the United States Rubber Company, specialize in cord for United States Tires.

Answering some Questions about the Cord in United States Tires

Q—How important is cord in a tire?

A—Cord provides the strength for the tire. It is the framework and the reinforcement which gives to the tire its form and structure. Rubber saturates, insulates and webs the cords together and supplies the tire with its wear resisting surface.

Q—Who makes the cord for United States Tires?

A—The superior cord used in United States Tires is made in the Winnsboro Mills at Winnsboro, South Carolina. These mills are controlled by the United States Rubber Company and have been, since 1917.

Q—Why does the United States Rubber Company consider it advantageous to operate its own cord mills?

A—This is in keeping with the Company's policy of ensuring absolute uniformity and high quality in all the materials which go into its tires. For the same reason, the Company grows its own rubber on its great plantations in the Far East.

Q—Then, this cord from the Winnsboro Mills is uniform and of high quality?

A—Yes. These one-product mills use machinery especially adapted to making cord for United States Tires. The operators are specialists in their work and the entire energy of the mills is devoted to making the best tire cord that can be made.

Q—How is the quality of the cord assured?

A—Tests are made at each step in manufacture at the mills. Further tests are made of each carload received at the tire factories. A third series of control tests are made periodically at the Central Textile Development Department, the Company's technical organization specializing in the development of cotton goods for the United States Rubber Company.

CITY PLAN FOR COUNTY ROADS IF MERGER CARRIES

Statement Issued by Consolidation Committee Asserts Millions Would Be Saved for Taxpayers.

EARLY PLANNING OF SYSTEM PLEDGED

Fact That No More Public Highways Can Be Constructed Without Bond Issue Stressed.

St. Louis County property owners need not fear that construction of streets and highways there under the proposed city-county merger would be expensive, it is asserted in a statement issued today by the City-County Consolidation Committee. Early planning of a street system under the municipal method would save millions of dollars to county and city taxpayers, it is declared. In part, the statement follows:

"No more public highways can be constructed in the county, as now constituted, except by bond issue. Whether the citizens of the county would approve a bond issue of $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 for the construction of additional public roads is questionable. Sentiment in the county has been antagonistic to a bond issue, one reason for this public opinion being the untrustworthiness of the county government.

"Approximately 70 per cent of the population of the county lives in incorporated towns and popular districts and the territory developed, under development and acquired for subdivision purposes comprises more than half of the total area of the county. It is extremely doubtful whether the citizens consisting in number of 70 per cent of the total population would vote for a bond issue for construction of county roads in as much as they must pay for street improvements in their own localties.

Cost and the Benefits.
"In construction of State highways the taxpayers of the whole State bear the cost of the improvements, with the benefits distributed as equitably as possible among all counties in the State. However, there are other private benefits, and these have not been taken into consideration in the cost of public highways. Owners of abutting property on public highways are sure to realize direct benefits in immediate conveniences, and, in addition, large material benefits in unearned increment resulting from increase of land values. These beneficiaries have not shared in the cost of highway construction in proportion to private benefits realized.

"New principles have been elaborated in connection with the distribution of cost in the construction, widening and improvement of major streets, as well as in the establishment and improvement of major streets. The most important, and so far the fairest and most logical, of these principles have been applied in St. Louis in the recent $87,000,000 bond issue for various kinds of public work.
The bond issue carried an appropriation item of $5,650,000 for establishing, opening and widening streets, and another of $5,800,000 for paving, repaving and improving streets. These appropriations are public contributions to the establishment and improvement of major streets on two new and now generally approved principles.

"The principle which applies to the proper conditioning of a major thoroughfare for modern traffic is that the owners of abutting property pay only the proportion of cost which would be charged for ordinary streets, that is, the construction indicated by the particular requirements of any thoroughfare under consideration, while the public pays the excess of the cost beyond this amount.

Tax on Abutting Property.
Briefly, owners of abutting property pay only for improvements obviously necessary for their property and convenience, while the public pays whatever portion of the cost is chargeable to the public. In all probability, this principle would be extended in connection with the building of major roads in rural districts in such a practical way as to limit the assessment of cost to abutting property to a surprisingly low minimum. The cost to abutting property in rural districts would equalize with the present road tax, and, in fact, might be lower.

"The county government has no plan for improvement of county roads, major or minor. If it had a plan, its only hope for road improvement would lie in a bond issue. St. Louis will save millions of dollars to county and city taxpayers by immediately planning and laying out a comprehensive road system in the county, and providing for establishment, opening or construction in accordance with prevailing needs and conditions.
The county government has neglected the road problem as a com-

MY LIFE AND FIGHTING CAREER

—By Gene Tunney, New Heavyweight Champion

Got Ambition to Excel In Personal Conflict by Watching Marching Clubs

Early Interests Were In Swimming and Running—Some Gossip About the Folks and the Old Home Town.

By Gene Tunney World's Heavyweight Champion.
CHAPTER II.

I WAS born in the heart of Greenwich Village. I was not as husky a baby as was the serpent-strangling Hercules. Neither was I as puny as Voltaire, who shocked his nurse with his tiny size and later shocked governments with his mighty pen and brain.

I was what you might characterize as medium, weighing about eight pound pound, if I am to believe the ancient meat scale that my father, John Tunney, so proudly adjusted. Since that day, 25 years ago, both New York City and Gene Tunney have grown some. I have added about 180 pounds to my original capital of flesh and bone.

My parents were both strong, healthy, right-living people. They were natives of County Mayo, Ireland. I am not going to grow "sobby" in the manner athletes are supposed to grow and tell about our poverty, our heartaches, our troubles and how "good" I was to my folks. I simply wish to set down that we lived a normal life, stuck closely together and that we made the best of things. We had to earn our bread before we ate it. I was not petted and coddled and spoiled, but I was given care and affection and a good example. I couldn't ask for a better heritage.

About the Old Home Town.

My father had a keen dry wit and we liked to hear his stories and what we now term "wise cracks." He was a longshoreman. He worked hard. It was a blow when he passed away at the old home in the Village four years ago. I would that he could have lived to see me win the heavyweight title.

It someone had told my blunt-spoken father that his son was to become "a big personality," he might have turned in a fire alarm. They tell me that I was something of an ugly duckling when I was only two years old. I remember myself at about 10 when I was fairly sleek and big-boned, but rather pasty-faced.

My early memories of the Village are interesting to me in the light of the present-day atmosphere there. While the Village always a dear spot to me—remains much of its physical contour, with the winding streets, the squat brick houses and occasional little parks. It was not yet peopled by artists in my early childhood.

When I was about six or seven there were various social clubs down there. There was "The Hounds," a marching club, which early fired my ambitions to excel in physical strength. The "Hounds" used to get out on wintry days, wearing patent leather caps and white shirts. Of course they had good wool sweaters and sometimes heavy red flannels under "those batty white shirts, but they gave an appearance of hardy and resolute men out to engage in great tournaments.

Never Tasted Liquor.

We kids used to follow the "Hounds" as they marched northward from the village to somewhere on the North river, say about Eighty-sixth street. There they cracked open kegs of ale which were supplied by the brewery which was the official "beverage" of the Village frolics. I never tasted liquor.

MANDELL STATES HE IS "FROM CHICAGO," NOT FROM ROCKFORD

By the Associated Press.
ROCKFORD, Ill., Oct. 12.—Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion of the world, stating by the failure of his fellow citizens here to turn up in large numbers for his 10-round fight with Joe Dawson of Milwaukee here last Friday night, will hereafter be "from Chicago," he announced here last night.

Mandell complained of heckling from various sources among his fellow townsmen and pointed out that he is still under a $1000 peace bond as a result of his efforts to put on an amateur boxing show here over a year ago.

"It's just been grief here for me," said Mandell. "A lot of people tried to stop the celebration they staged for me after the Sid Terris fight. Then I was indicted like a criminal for putting on exhibition bouts here."

Buffalo Gets Schulte.

By the Associated Press.
NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 12.—The Buffalo Bulls, who have been the Newark International League baseball team, to Buffalo was announced yesterday by Charles A. Davidson, owner of the Bulls. Schulte came to the Newark club from the American Association.

TUNNEY STORIES TO APPEAR TRI-WEEKLY

THIS is the second of a series of articles in which the new world's heavyweight ring champion, Gene Tunney, tells his life story. The articles are composed and written by the champion himself.

They will appear Tuesdays, Fridays and Sundays henceforth, subject to change, of which due notice will be given.

may add here that I never have had a drink of liquor, beer or other alcoholic beverage in my life, so I cannot attest personally to the goodness of hard cheer so gleefully sampled by the heroic "Hounds."

Occasionally during the march of the "Hounds," some intrepid spectator would assail the paraders with the "razzberry." This usually was followed by the dropping out of one of the fearless "Hounds," who with neat "roundhouse" swings would settle accounts and then rejoin his perambulating colleagues, to the cheers of the kid followers.

I believe it was watching the quarterstaff and wooden broadsword games and tussles of men of these marching clubs that first fired me with ambition to excel in personal conflicts. By the time I learned that by exercise I could make my chest larger, my muscles more supple and my system more properly tuned, I learned the value of eating plain food by giving a pet dog. One day I gave him some shrimps with mayonnaise and something else fancy on it, and the pup had too much sense to eat it.

Reputation as "Killer."

One of our most distinguished village citizens today is John Voorhis. Grand Sachem of Tammany Hall. He was just as distinguished 25 years ago. I used to like to see him walking about the streets in fine new hats at the age of 76. He is now 96 years old. Don't let anyone tell you they don't live long in Greenwich Village!

My father, a wagon-maker, had a factory in Greenwich Village when I was a boy. The "Hounds" used to get their tough singleness there. The place was covered and the spacial mill was there that I used to watch boys of the neighborhood settle their little differences with their fists. Up to the age of seven I had shown no inclination to become adept with my fists. I was more interested in swimming and running. I attended the parochial school, where later I was something of an athlete and growing tall and gangling at an alarming rate.

In the next chapter, I am going to tell you I gained a reputation for "not being a killer," because it was when I was a boy of eight that I developed much of my present temperament when under fire.

MACOMBER HAS TWO STARTERS FOR BRITISH TURF EVENT TOMORROW

By the Associated Press.
NEWARK, Oct. 12.—A. K. Macomber, American turfman, will try again to win the Cesarewitch and Cambridgehire, the two last big handicaps of the English flat racing season. The Cesarewitch will be run tomorrow and the Cambridgehire two weeks hence.

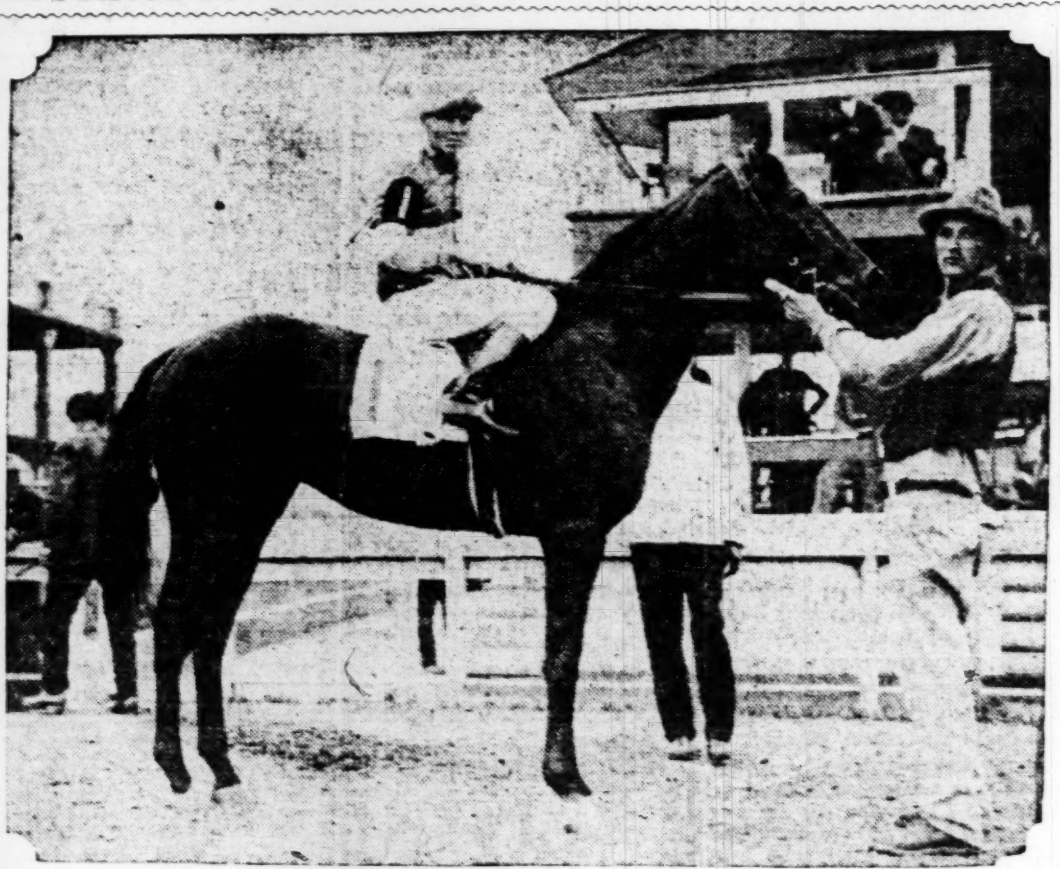

For the Cesarewitch he has entered Forest and The Wolf. The Cambridgehire he will be represented by Masked Marvel and God II.

Macomber was with the Cesarewitch last year with Forest and the Cambridgehire with Masked Marvel.

The injunction was issued at the request of Charles Reider, Madison promoter, who charged Meyers, his manager, Ed White, and the referee, Charles Lavine, with conspiring to defeat Demarell.

The court action followed an argument at the ring, Sunday when Referee Lavine decided Meyers was the victor after awarding him two out of three falls. Demarell and his friends claimed Meyers used the illegal struggle hold to obtain the last fall.

HORNSBY: Like His Namesake, He Too is a Winner

Hornsby won the first race at Fairmount last Saturday, a 6-furlong event, and paid $8.90 for a $2 straight ticket. Many St. Louisans cashed heavily on the race. Hornsby is a black colt by Busy L. Gentry is his trainer. On his American out of May Star, and is owned by Respass and Laffoon. Only previous out at Fairmount he ran second to McComas.

"Better Club Won Series," Says John J. McGraw in Reviewing Title Games

Alexander's Pitching Is Outstanding Performance; Pennock Would Be Big Hero if St. Louis Victory Had Not Spoiled Southpaw's Thunder.

By John J. McGraw,
Manager of the New York Giants.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—In reviewing the world series the one impression that remains with me after seeing the games day after day is that the American League this year must have been surfeited with fast-ball pitching. They may account for the terrific hitting by several clubs early in the season. In a way it explains the apparent ease with which the Yanks hit the Brooklyn pitchers in the long spring series. At that time of the year the pitchers had not yet acquired their curve balls and other finer deliveries like the slow ball.

It was quite apparent from the start of the big series with the Cardinals that the big hitters of the Yanks thrived on fast ball pitching. This was particularly true of men like Ruth, Gehrig, Meusel and Lazzari. The Cardinal pitchers were quick to discover this and when the more experienced pitchers began mixing them up, as we say, they were stopped. Young pitchers like Flint Rhem, Reinhardt and Herman Bell thought they could get fast balls by the Yanks and met with disaster. Even the veterans, Shawkey and Hoyt, tried to ram their fast ball past Cardinal batters and were beaten.

It is very difficult to conceive a young pitcher, particularly, that his fast one will not always fool big league batters. He has to learn from experience. I remember very well when I had Hoyt on my club as a kid pitcher that he was getting hit hard in a spring practice game.

"One of the first things for you to learn," I told him, "is that you cannot breeze a fast ball past big league hitters like you do in the minors. You've got to mix them up and also work the corners."

The boy was so proud of his speed though, that he found it difficult to believe this. To this day he feels that way at times. In Sunday's deciding game, for example, he got two strikes on several batters right over the middle. They promptly socked it. It was on a chance like that that Tommy Thoenow made the hit that rallied the Cardinals.

Now, according to these figures the Cardinals outpitched, outbatted, outpitched and outbatted the Yankees. The I think is a most convincing evidence of superiority. If they had lost under these circumstances the result would have been unsatisfactory to the public as well as the players.

Despite Ruth's Slugging the Cards Excelled in Total Bases, 91 to 78

Notwithstanding the frequent long hitting of Babe Ruth the Cardinals exceeded the Yanks in total bases on hits by 91 to 78. That is one of the most surprising results of the series.

The Cardinals made 21 runs to the Yankees' 21; they made 65 hits to the Yanks' 54. Each side made four home runs. All of New York's were made by Babe Ruth. There you have an indication of the superiority in balance. The Cardinals attacked as a team while the Yanks attacked as individuals. In seven games that make a lot of difference.

The Yankees received 31 bases on balls to the Cardinals' 11 and still they couldn't get the hits to take advantage of such a situation.

To me the pitching of Alexander was the outstanding feature of the series. The most uninformed fan couldn't miss that. It was the most remarkable exhibition of craft and

NOVICES WILL MAKE FIRST APPEARANCE IN SOUTH BROADWAY SHOW

Nine pugilistic novices will make their first appearance in amateur pugilist competition Thursday night as members of a team of 16 ringers scheduled to represent the South Broadway A. C. in the first round of the season at the South Side arena.

The newcomers are: Clifford Heitzel and Joe Tomazini, flyweights; Joe Stanton, William Clark and Kenneth Stone, featherweights; Tony Macaluso, bantamweight; Jack Balch, lightweight; Ed Mitchell and Eddie McElroy, welterweights.

In the Class A and Class B events the South Broadway club will be represented by six veterans of last season. They are: Harry Duto and Charley Stahl, flyweights; Russell Hemmingsway and Al Meyer, featherweights; John Buckley, lightweight; John Shawkey, heavyweight. Schwake will appear in a special match if another heavyweight contender enters the meet.

The show has attracted 25 entries to date. The interclub special bouts will feature Mickey Mazer of Sherman Park Community Center in a flyweight set with Ray Lang of the Tower A. C. and Morris Greenberg of the National A. A. in a featherweight bout with Frank Sims of the Business Men's A. C.

catcher for 1926. At the outset of the series I said that the Yanks would not be able to run on O'Farrell. They got just one stolen base. But he did more than that. He directed the whole defense and his own fielding and hitting marked him as an outstanding star. O'Farrell's work was so smooth and mechanically perfect that few noticed him. He seemed like a part of the machine.

Tommy Thoenow has proven himself one of the greatest shortstops of baseball. He was the real firebrand of the series, the standing star. He led both clubs in hitting, despite the belief that he would be weak at bat. Moreover, he drove in as many runs as anybody excepting Ruth and Bottomley. They each drove in five, while Thoenow drove in four.

Heim Did His Part. The Cardinals were severely handicapped by the loss of Douthitt and Blades. Heim did fine work in substituting for the unfortunate Douthitt, but Hefey did not do so well in left. Everything seemed to go wrong for him. In spite of this he pulled through.

Outside of the pitching the sturdiest work done for the Yanks was by Ruth, Combs and Dugan. Another youngster to toe the mark acceptably was Gehrig. He didn't get any of his long drives into right, as had been expected, but he came next to Combs as the sturdiest hitter on the club.

Ruth's work in this series was remarkable, outside of his home-run hitting. He made some beautiful fielding plays and was a star base runner. Ruth is a remarkable ball player—I might say, institution.

Of the Yanks, Hank Severeld did some nice steady work behind the bat and proved conclusively that he will have a lot of good baseball left in him. He was always dangerous at the bat and the Cardinals feared him.

Jim Bottomley had a great series, as did Billy Southworth. From the first inning to the last they proved themselves champions. Neither showed the slightest evidence of nervousness.

I can't quit without complimenting the beautiful pitching of Jess Haines and Sherdel.

Finally, Rogers Hornsby proved himself a real manager. He played under a heavy handicap, but never once did he lose his head.

Huggins, with more experience, threw in every ounce of strength that he had and played his cards well, but he simply did not have a good hand. The defeat is no discredit to him.

Series Ran True To Form, Yanks' Manager Admits

Huggins Says His Teams Failure Was Due to Lack of Timely Hitting.

By Miller Huggins,
As Told to a Representative of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The world series, for the most part, ran true to form. The type of play, the pitching and the fielding was just about as everyone hoped it would be.

Only one thing failed to materialize. The Yankees didn't hit up to form—and in that statement you have the answer to why the Cardinals are world champions and the Yankees are also-rams.

Don't misunderstand me. I have no desire to alibi the result or present an excuse. The Cardinals deserved to win. They outplayed us in fielding and in hitting, and they at least held us even in pitching. The records show that—and there's no need going behind the returns. Errors in the field hurt us in at least two of the games. But we expected to make errors. I said in our story before the series that I expected St. Louis to have a fielding edge.

But I praise Sherdel. A tribute is due to the Cardinal pitchers. Alexander and Sherdel pitched wonderful ball. Sherdel was as much as entitled to win as Alex. Haines, I think, was rather lucky in getting the breaks. Over the course of a season I doubt if Jess would beat the Yankees very many games.

In closing I want to offer my congratulations to the Cardinals and to Rogers Hornsby. They played through a hectic series like real veterans. If they felt the strain of world series play, they failed to let it influence their work. From start to finish they were steady and sure.

I'm proud of my ball club for the fight they made. I'm particularly proud of Ruth and Pennock. Two greater ballplayers never lived than these two.

PEGGY, A BAY MARE, FAVORED TO WIN IN ENDURANCE CONTEST

By the Associated Press.
BRANDON, Vt., Oct. 12.—Thirteen of the 14 starters in the eighth annual saddle horse endurance ride yesterday weathered the first 60 miles of the 100-mile five-day grind over the Vermont hills here. Lady Luck, entered by the Service Troop Third Cavalry, was forced to withdraw after an attack of colic on the way out to Middlebury. The other horses all finished the ride in the allotted nine hours in good condition.

Peggy, a half-bred bay mare, entered by Troop F Third Cavalry, Fort Myer, Va., who has won two years in succession and is contending this year for final possession of the service cup, was favored by the race followers as the best finisher of the day. The official point of computation, on a basis of 40 per cent for time record and 60 per cent for condition, will not be announced until the final day of racing next Friday.

Tommy Thoenow has proven himself one of the greatest shortstops of baseball. He was the real firebrand of the series, the standing star. He led both clubs in hitting, despite the belief that he would be weak at bat. Moreover, he drove in as many runs as anybody excepting Ruth and Bottomley. ### Last Night's Fights.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA.—Tony Martini, New Orleans, beat West Adgie, Philadelphia, 10 rounds. George Lamson, California, defeated Frankie Carpenter, New York, six rounds.

CHICAGO.—Joey Klein, Milwaukee, won on a foul from Midget Smith, one round. Merrie Gransberg, St. Paul, and Eddie Speaks, Louisville, fought a draw, six rounds.

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—Jack Bernstein, New York, won from Cuddy De Marco, Pittsburgh, 10 rounds.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—"Red" Herrington, Gulfport, Miss., outpointed Johnny Simpson, San Antonio, Tex., 12 rounds.

Nebraska Will Outweigh Bears 15 Pounds to Man

With the prospect of their toughest home assignment of the season scheduled for Saturday in the visit of the powerful Nebraska Cornhusker eleven, the Washington Bears went through a fast signal drill yesterday afternoon in preparation for the Cornhuskers. The last meeting between the schools was on Francis Field in 1918, when the S. A. T. C. team of the local university defeated the visitors.

The fact that Nebraska is not invulnerable, as was evidenced by its 14-7 defeat by Missouri, is hailed by the more enthusiastic Bear followers as portent of a possible Bear victory, but the more conservative voices in the Bear camp are looking toward a top-heavy score favoring the Cornhuskers, who will average approximately 15 pounds heavier to the man.

The Nebraska line is well over the 190-pound mark, while the Bear forward wall scales less than 175. The triumph of the Missouri aerial offense, however, is encouraging, although the over-head attack hitherto displayed by the Bears has not been of a sufficient caliber to warrant victory hopes on that score. It is expected, however, that the Bear offense will center around the ends and a passing offense, should the superior weight advantage of the Huskers prove too much a handicap for straight football.

Ralph Kura, regular guard, is probably out for the season. He was stricken with appendicitis just before the Rolla game and has been removed to a hospital. Al Hayes, who was badly used in the Miner encounter, has also been on the injured list, but is expected to don uniform in several days.

Charles Bradley, a soph backfield man, has been changed to a center.

NEBRASKA IS AFTER TURKEY DAY BATTLE WITH MISSOURI U.

By the Associated Press.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 12.—Officials of the University of Nebraska athletic department made it known here yesterday that negotiations are under way for a Thanksgiving day game with the University of Missouri in the future. Nothing definite, however, has been arranged. The situation was discussed between the school representatives last Saturday in Lincoln.

Tommy Thoenow has proven himself one of the greatest shortstops of baseball. He was the real firebrand of the series, the standing star. He led both clubs in hitting, despite the belief that he would be weak at bat. Moreover, he drove in as many runs as anybody excepting Ruth and Bottomley. ## Wills Is Favored To Beat Sharkey In Bout Tonight

Brown Panther Will Have Advantage in Weight and Height.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Wills, huge Negro stevedore, tonight climbs into the ring to bet his field to defend his title as foremost challenger to the heavyweight title against the black panther, now 31, who fought his last match with Floyd Johnson of Duquesne, battered the Westerner in a single round in this same period Sharkey's reign.

During the months that Sharkey spent in the ring improving his physique, Wills has been developing a right-hand smash which is feared through the ring. Wills devoted his efforts to making a title match with Dempsey after his long period of inactivity. Odds on the Wills win have fallen as low as 4 to 1.

NEW MANAGER, COACH, SCOUT AND PLAYERS FOR BROWNS IN 1927

Deals Looking to a Complete Rebuilding Are Now On, Ball Says

Wills Is Favored To Beat Sharkey In Bout Tonight

Brown Panther Will Have Advantage in Weight and Height.

By John E. Wray.

Following his announcement yesterday that he would not re-sign the expired contract of George Sisler as manager of the Browns, President Phil Ball today admitted that extensive plans for reconstruction of the team already were under way.

"At this time I can't discuss that question. I have not heard from Sisler since notifying him."

Ball also refused to discuss any proposed trades of players, but admitted that there were "several" who had outlived their usefulness with the club.

"I still have the essentials of a great baseball club and when it is manned better and strengthened in pitching and certain other positions we ought to be right back in the race next year."

"What about Nevers?"

"I think a lot of that player and am sure he will be heard from next year. With proper use he would have shown much more last season."

"The next manager of the team will be a rigid disciplinarian and a man able to command the enthusiasm of the players and their best efforts."

Sisler, following the announcement that his contract would not be renewed, declined to discuss the situation in any way. He has not communicated with President Ball since he was notified Sept. 27 that he was through as manager.

"Nothing I could say would help the situation," Sisler said. "My future is strictly up to Mr. Ball. I am on the club's reserve list."

World's Series Pitchers Hurlled 1133 Strikes and 633 Balls in Seven Games

Statistics of the Championship Struggle Show That the First Game, With Pennock and Sherdel Working, Was the Best of the Series.

By Herman Wecke.

Has anyone ever stopped to figure how many pitched balls are needed to decide a world series? You say you have not? Well, then the statistics on the seven contests needed to give St. Louis its first world's baseball title since away back in 1886 should prove interesting.

The "dope" shows that a total of 1766 pitches were needed to decide the series. That's an average of 252 pitches in each game.

Of the total number, 1133 of the efforts from the pitchers who saw service were strikes, while 633 were balls. Thus the average of strikes was 162 a game and the wide pitches 92. Thus those efforts which went across the rubber outnumbered the wide ones almost two to one.

The following table will show just how many strikes and balls were thrown in each of the seven tilts.

Game	Strikes	Balls	Total
2	170	78	248
3	132	81	213
4	192	123	315
5	166	107	273
6	167	79	246
7	181	88	269
Totals	1133	633	1766

The above table shows that the opening game, the one in which Pennock and Sherdel were the hurlers, was the best pitched of all. Also that the fourth game, played in St. Louis, when Babe Ruth battled out his three homers to establish a world series record and walked 10 batters was easily the wildest.

But the dope on the series brings out some other interesting facts. It shows that despite the fact that the Cardinals captured the world's baseball honors, the men used on the hill by Rogers Hornsby were forced to toil harder than were those of the New York club.

New York Gives Cardinals Credit Majority of Experts Say Best Team Won

World's Champions' Fighting Spirit and Better Defense Credited Almost Unanimously By Recognized Critics.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—There is little disposition on the part of the recognized baseball experts on the New York papers to belittle the world series triumph of the St. Louis club, or to make fatuous searches for allis for the defeated Yankees. The only excuses offered are the costly misplays of Koenig and Meusel in the deciding game; but these are not advanced as "breaks," but as part of the general efficiency or inefficiency of a ball club. The best known of these writers comment as per following excerpts from their analyses of the series:

BOZEMAN BULGER, EVENING WORLD.—In the seven games necessary to settle this baseball supremacy for the year, the National League champions bested the American Leaguers in every department of play that becomes a part of the records. These records do not mean everything, but they point almost unerringly to results.

The Cardinals' outfield, outfielded, and outscored the Yankees. Reversing the hit figures, this shows, of course, that the Yankees were outpitched.

In the seven games the Cardinals made 63 hits, 31 runs and fielded .985. The Yanks made 54 hits, 21 runs and fielded about .880.

If the whole series, therefore, could be sized up in one composite score, the Cardinals, the new world's champions, have a clear, overwhelming right to their title.

FORD FRICK, EVENING JOURNAL.—The Cardinals won that world series because they beat the Yankees at their own game—which is slugging the ball. They won because they were superior in pitching strength. They won because they had the true baseball spirit, fighting for every break and taking advantage of every Yankee lapse.

You don't have to go beyond the official averages to learn the answer. Hitting, pitching, fielding, the three Cardinal virtues of baseball being, all show a Cardinal edge. When it comes down to the final analysis the Yankees had two things. They had Pennock and they had Ruth. But these two alone couldn't beat the Cardinals.

ED HUGHES, EVENING TELEGRAM.—Alexander, the hero of the series, may have saved his final, deciding game, by his reluctance to match pitching skill against Ruth's genius for the home run. Then again, possibly the Cardinals can justly contend that passing the dread Babe really was a species of hurling science. It's all in the angle from which you view it.

At any rate, Alexander seems to have been considerably more enlightened than the ancient Ajax. He knew better than to defy the lightning, which often strikes with fatal, devastating results.

And again you may contend that the Cardinals really won that last game on errors, that most of the scoring was unearned. But good ball teams are not supposed to supply errors in the important game of a championship. Neither are such bungles to be classed in the consoling term of "breaks" against the home team. An error, it seems, is never a "break" for the enemy unless the latter happens to turn it to advantage. Ever notice that?

The Cardinals were proficient enough to convert Yankee errors into runs, and by that time they won. That is good baseball. And as world's champions they are good enough for me.

JOHN KIERAN, THE AMERICAN. The Cardinals not only won the series, but they deserved it. They played with their heads up, made the most of every opportunity, took the bludgeonings of fate in earlier games with steadfast courage, and literally fought their way to victory.

Grover Cleveland Alexander was the marvel of the series. Approaching his fortieth birthday and finishing his sixteenth year of service in the major leagues, the cast-off from the Cubs loomed so large in these battles that at times he seemed to be holding back the Yankees single-handed.

JOE VILA, THE SUN. Winning three games in the Yankee stadium, the Cardinals deserve the title of world champions. They left St. Louis last Thursday evening needing two victories to capture the inter-league series. Having dropped two games to the Yankees at Sportsman's Park, Hornsby's battlers never lost confidence in themselves. So they went to work fearlessly and, banking on Alexander and Haines to pull them through, they outplayed and outsmarted the Hugmen.

To Hornsby belongs the credit for obtaining Alexander and Southworth, who proved the winning aces in the pennant race and also in the world series. But all of the other St. Louis players

Billiken Team Is Beginning to "Think Football"

Will Be at Full Strength for Marquette; Capt. Kahle Slightly Injured.

Capt. Kahle was the only St. Louis University player injured in the 52-0 victory over Drury Saturday, athletic director Mathews reported this morning. Kahle, bruised on the back and side in blocking a Drury man early in the game, is being treated at St. Mary's Infirmary and will be ready to lead his Billikens against Marquette here next Saturday.

Otherwise the men have not so much as a serious "strawberry" and 30 saw action, Mathews would make no prediction as to his chances against Marquette's "Golden Avalanche" but said his team was improved over the previous week and that he would start concentrated preparation for the Milwaukee right off.

"As in the opening game," he said, "they were good at times but occasional lapses by individuals threw the other ten men off stride. The work of the line was particularly gratifying."

and Herbert Pennock that with even fair support would have shut the game and hustling Cardinals out.

For it was through an open breach in the left wing of the Yankee defense, through a complete cave-in of the Yankee levee where Mark Koenig and Bob Meusel both crashed together, that Hornsby's galloping Western tribe rushed on to win the most dramatic battle of the year on any field.

GEORGE W. (MONITOR) DALEY, MORNING WORLD. The Red Birds of Hornsby are champions today because they skillfully dodged the issue to the big hitter. They are the ducking champs of 1926 and these tactics in pitching to him only make him look the bigger.

But it takes nine men to make a ball club, and in the fielding defense at least, the Cardinals were the better. Their short-stop didn't mess up any ground balls, their left fielder did not miff any easy flies.

The Yankees did, and the misplays by over-anxious fielders in the fourth inning nullified all the good work of the pitchers and the generalship of Huggins-Lazzari and the inability of Tony Lazzeri to hit the ball in a crisis.

THIS TOBACCO IS UNDER-RIPE

THIS TOBACCO IS RIPE

THIS TOBACCO IS OVER-RIPE

THE minute you light up the new Mapacuba you'll see what a tremendous difference it makes when you smoke a cigar made of carefully selected ripe tobacco!

It has a fuller, richer aroma! It tastes better! And it's milder and mellower than you ever thought a cigar could be!

The reason is simply because Mapacuba is made only of the finely ripened, perfectly matured leaves in the middle of the plant.

Try a Mapacuba soon and see for yourself. You'll realize then that you never knew how good a cigar could be until you started smoking ripe tobacco!

Wills Is Favored To Beat Sharkey In Bout Tonight

Brown Panther Will Have Advantage in Weight and Height.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Hornbys, huge Negro stevedore, night climbs into the ring at the Madison Square Garden to defend his rank as foremost challenger for the heavyweight title against young Jack Sharkey of Boston.

Almost a year has passed since the black panther, now 37, fought his last match with Floyd Johnson of Des Moines, who battered the Westerner to a less figure in a single round.

During the months that Sharkey spent in the ring improving speed and clever defense while developing a right-hand smash, Wills devoted his efforts to a title match with Dempsey.

The drive brought him recognition as a leading contender for the crown, but the year's idleness influenced the betting franchise, chastened by the showing of Dempsey after his long period of inactivity. Odds on the Negro have fallen as low as 6 to 1.

Boston Boy Ties Youth.

The latest edition of the strong boy, who is 25 years old, spent only in his favor in meeting physical qualifications with the husky Negro. Wills, 6 feet 2 inches tall, has an advantage of 2 inches in height, and is also superior in weight and reach. In the clinch, the first list of the stevedore, who hammered Louis Firpo to a round defeat in 1924, is seen as the greatest menace to the hopes of confident New England champion.

Sharkey was the picture of confidence as he finished his training. "Tunney refused to meet me in the year," he said, "and was just as well for him that didn't. I'd like to be champion of the world today. I'm going to knock Wills out and then Tunney will have to meet me."

Wills is certain that tonight's skirmish will settle once and all his position among the best weights. "I'll prove to the world that I am the man who should be champion. I'll show the speed and hitting power I was not displayed at Philadelphia. I'll prove that I am the Dempsey should have fought that I would have won by a knockout. I'll stop Sharkey quickly."

The bout, 15 rounds to a decision, will begin at 10 p. m.

Michigan Leads Big Ten Scores

Long Runs in Order With Marty Karow and Toad Crofoot Outstanding.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—While Minnesota fought a losing battle 20 to 7 against Notre Dame in the outstanding Saturday Big Ten clash, the other nine members of the league assaulted far-flung opponents to roll up oversized scores in the final preliminaries to battles for Conference honors. Minnesota was the only team forced to exertion. Both Minnesota and Notre Dame showed teams improved over last week, but after rallying once in the second period to tie the Rockneites 7 to 7, a long pass from Geer to Cap Wheeler, the Gophers fell constantly before the co-ordinated onslaught of the Notre Dame backfield.

Michigan Leads Scorers.
Michigan, with "Bo" Moen-battering and Benny Friedman passing, accumulated the day's big score of 55 to 3, against Michigan State, while Purdue's 21 to 14 win over Wabash and Indiana's 14 to victory over Kentucky registers the closest competition.

Retailers say—

"The Billionarea is Your St. Louis Market!"

The manufacturer who advertises in newspapers is undertaking a retail selling job. In selecting markets and media, he becomes a retail advertiser.

Like the retailer, he is concerned only with the individual sale—the selling of one unit to one consumer at a time.

Therefore, it is tremendously significant to any manufacturer who is considering a campaign in St. Louis: [1] that the St. Louis retailers have found their volume to be secured most economically from within The Billionarea—the Greater St. Louis Market—and [2] that they have obtained by far the greatest results by concentrating their advertising in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

There can be no question about this because for years, the Post-Dispatch has carried twice as much retail store advertising as the second St. Louis newspaper, and almost as much as all three other newspapers combined.
In the first six months of 1926 they actually placed more advertising in the Post-Dispatch alone than in all three other St. Louis newspapers combined.

It is evident that national advertisers recognize the importance of these facts. Not only is more national advertising being placed in the Post-Dispatch than any other St. Louis newspaper, but the Post-Dispatch gain in national advertising is now 30% greater than that of the second newspaper.

That both the retailer and the manufacturer should secure far greater results from the Post-Dispatch than from any other St. Louis newspaper is not surprising when you know the underlying reasons:

The Billionarea—the Greater St. Louis Market—where the daily Post-Dispatch circulation is concentrated, is the true, natural St. Louis trading area. It contains a million people with more than a billion dollars annual purchasing power —offering one of the highest average family purchasing powers in America.

Within The Billionarea, the Post-Dispatch reaches 40,000 more families than the second St. Louis newspaper. This extra circulation represents the population of a city the size of Dayton or Dallas. As this extra circulation is secured by paying no higher rate than you would pay in the second St. Louis daily newspaper, the wisdom and economy of using the Post-Dispatch is obvious.

Even a casual study of P+D+C [concentration of population, spending power and circulation-coverage] will bring out facts that warrant a very special drive for volume sales of your product in The Billionarea right now through the columns of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The P+D+C Manual and The Book of Information About The Billionarea—The Greater St. Louis Market, will be mailed free to anyone interested in the advertising and sales opportunity of this market. Address St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

important separate classifications of retailers, consistently

P+D+C Study Will Show You

"P" stands for people or population;
"D" for dollars, wealth, purchasing power; and "C" for newspaper circulation coverage. When you make a study of these three factors in regard to The Billionarea, the Greater St.
Louis Market, you find:

1. The Billionarea is the true, natural market of Greater St. Louis, not a mythical zone arbitrarily drawn on the map to include thinly scattered circulation in distant small towns and rural communities.
2. The Billionarea contains a million people spending a billion dollars annually—a huge market in a remarkable state of prosperity right now.
3. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch has by far the greatest circulation coverage in The Billionarea, reaching 40,000 more families—160,000 more persons—than the second St. Louis daily newspaper.
4. This extra circulation [equaling the total population of a city like Dallas or Dayton] costs you nothing since the advertising rate of the Post-Dispatch is no greater than that of the second daily newspaper.
5. The Post-Dispatch alone reaches three out of four families in the entire Billionarea—practically every family of purchasing consequence.

THE BILLIONAREA

is more than a market name. It is a market condition. In addition to its unusual prosperity and growth, Greater St. Louis offers advertisers an annual purchasing power of over a BILLION dollars—one of the highest average purchasing powers per family of any city in America.

'WILLIAMS MUST WIN,'
SAYS G. O. P. FUND PLEA

Democrats Known to Favor Hawes Wondering Why They Are Being Solicited.

The Republican City Central Committee of St. Louis has sent out a letter bearing the caption, "WILLIAMS MUST WIN," to regular contributors to Republican affairs, and to some Democrats, appealing for money with which to conduct the present Republican election campaign.

The letter, dated Oct. 1, signed by Oliver T. Remmers, chairman, and Charles B. Gillespie, treasurer, says it will require "considerable money to carry on an appropriate campaign to insure the election of the entire Republican ticket."

Business men of known Democratic politics who received the letter wondered why they are being solicited. Among these are some ardent supporters of Congressman Harry B. Hawes, Democrat, who is opposing Senator Williams, Republican, for the senatorial nomination.

Treasurer Gillespie explained that the committee is not making a general solicitation of business men regardless of political affiliation or leaning. This is only the annual solicitation for the election and for funds to maintain the committee over the next year," he said. "We need about $50,000 in St. Louis for this purpose and are receiving a liberal response to our letter. Perhaps some Democrats have been asked to contribute, but this is because their names were turned in by committeemen or committeewomen who had reason to believe they favored Williams against Hawes. A thinking man sometimes changes his politics to vote for a good man."

Remmers heard Gillespie's statement and had nothing to add.

ST. LOUIS PLEA FOR COAL RATE REDUCTION HEARD
Discrimination Charged on Freight Traffic From Illinois in Favor of Other Cities.

St. Louis interests, seeking a reduction in freight rates on coal shipments from the Illinois mines to this city, are having a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission today at Hotel Jefferson. Arthur Kettler of Washington, member of the commission, is hearing evidence and will make a report and recommendation to the entire commission for such action as that body may decide upon.

The hearing was granted at the request of the City of St. Louis, the Chamber of Commerce and various civic and commercial organizations. Complaint is made that the wide difference in coal freight rates between St. Louis and the Illinois coal district, and between the district and other cities, is discriminatory.

HURRICANE IN HOLLAND CAUSED LOSS OF 32 LIVES

Two Steam Trawlers and Tug Foundered With Crews in North Sea Storm.
 AMSTERDAM, Holland, Oct. 12.—A toll of 32 lives is known to have been taken over the week-end by a hurricane which raged over Denmark and Holland. The trawler Agatha Maria, founded at Wyk and its crew of 14 were drowned. A tug sank with its crew of four on the Maas River after a collision.

News also was received today that the steam trawler Copernicus founded in the North Sea on Saturday with the loss of 14 of its crew. Three men were rescued. Heavy damage was caused by the storm, especially to shipping and many other vessels were in difficulty.

THE WAY OUT.
CHAPTER 33.

DORIS was lying on the chaise longue on her balcony with a writing pad in her lap. A sheet of paper was spread before her. She was trying ardently to compose a letter to her Aunt Elsie.

Day after day and week after week during her sojourn on the Riviera, she had been endeavoring to write that letter and as yet the sheet of note paper was blank. What could she say to Aunt Elsie, except the truth and the truth was impossible because it involved her Cousin Camilla in a potentially disastrous episode? But what must her aunt think of her—the aunt who had scribbled and saved to give her a musical education in New York? What had Camilla written, what explanation had she given for Doris' disappearance?

From Camilla herself there had been no word to Doris. Camilla was too careful to write. Doris was just beginning to realize how careful Camilla was where her own safety was concerned. And yet she was beginning to exonerate Camilla from all blame. She had almost decided that Jack Hartley was a villain whose unwelcome attentions had forced Camilla to the drastic and dangerous scheme of turning him into a trip abroad, of getting him actually aboard an ocean liner, under the pretense of eloping with him.

A pebble from the garden suddenly skimmed across the unmarked page in Doris' lap. A guarded voice said:

"May I talk to you alone for a few minutes? Will you admit me to your fortress?"

She leaned over the rail to perceive young Hartley looking up at her from a clump of rhododendrons.

When she let him into her airy, little sitting room, he glanced about.

"There are no maids around?" She shook her head. He lighted a cigarette and began to walk up and down the floor.

"I have news for you. The hour of freedom is soon to sound!"

She stared at him incredulously. "Fact," he reiterated. "The family's about to move on. Uncle Howard's dissatisfied with Cannes and is off to Aix les Bains for the cure. Dad's decided to accompany him since the season's over here. You and I are let out gracefully. We'll be off to Paris—and then—the end of this beastly mess."

Doris did a little pirouette for pure satisfaction. Didn't she always land on her feet, she asked herself gleefully?

"You do seem overjoyed!" he remarked.

"Naturally. Aren't you?" she demanded crisply.

"You bet your sweet life I am!" he declared fervently. "I'm going gray these past weeks. It's been like living through a volcano never knowing when the beastly thing was going to blow up. Only last night I ran across a chap who just arrived from New York. I'd dined with him the night before I sailed and I never whispered a word about getting myself married before the boat left the next morning. Naturally he thinks it's odd and as he's an inquisitive sort of chap, he's bound to scout around asking embarrassing questions that might arouse suspicion. We're well out of it if we can get off to Paris next week."

"Paris!" breathed Doris rapidly, half thrilled, half frightened at the prospect.

He hesitated a moment, then came to a stop directly in front of her.

"You'd better make up your mind what you want to do after that. I dare say you'd better take the first boat to America."

The idea gave Doris pause. "How can I have no money?" He shrugged.

"Don't worry about that. The greatest pleasure of my life will be to secure your passage and place it in your little white hand." And then contritely, "I bet your nard, I didn't mean to be rude, really."

"Oh that's quite all right." Doris assured him and meant it. Her pretty brow was puckered in thought.

"I won't take money from you," she said gravely after a minute, "but I'll borrow enough to keep me in Paris until I can get funds from my cousin Henry and then I'll repay you."

It came to her quite suddenly that that was the very thing to do and Henry Fielding was the very one to appeal to for aid. She wouldn't have to tell him anything—just ask him to arrange for the transfer of her account in New York to a bank in Paris so she could draw sufficient to pay for her passage back to America.

"There probably won't be anything left over after I pay the expenses of the trip," she thought, "but that's all right."

It occurred to her, with delight, that the voice lessons couldn't continue in New York and she would have to go back home. The idea gave her a tremendous thrill.

Didn't she always land on her feet?

Hartley was frowning.

"Don't be a little idiot! I shall most certainly look after you until you are restored to the—er—bosom of your family. I dare say it's all my fault anyway," he was continuing magnanimously in view of his imminent release from responsibility, when Doris disconcerted him by saying haughtily:

"I've had the time of my life. Freedom from practice and everything I wouldn't have had it happen differently for the world."

He gave it up with a shrug. "But of course," Doris went on thoughtfully, "it couldn't have lasted much longer, because your Aunt Ada was beginning to make remarks—I think she's seen us at parties and she noticed we weren't exactly—well, devoted."

"You mean," corrected Hartley grimly, "she's seen you with your faithful following of every tame cat on the Riviera—not to mention your elderly admirer who worships daily from afar? Poor Aunt Ada with her romantic principles. She told me yesterday that with you and me as specimens, she didn't wonder that modern marriage was a failure."

"Well, it's all over now!" said Doris practically.

"Yes, it's all over now!" he repeated, and sighed.

NEWS FROM AMERICA.
Chapter 34.

DORIS and Hartley were on the train en route to Paris. Good-byes had been said to the little family group at the villa in Cannes; Hartley Sr. and the Chushings were leaving the following day for Aix les Bains.

Doris had been actually reluctant to see the last of them. She told herself that she would never see them again and she had become very fond of them.

From the window of the compartment she had waved goodbye to the gay little crowd of young people who had been her intimates at Cannes. Jessups was there and the girls and the "tame cats"—even in the distance, as she had entered the station she had caught a glimpse of the ubiquitous stranger—the elderly man with the military air—whom her crowd had dubbed "Doris' lamb," because everywhere that Doris went the "lamb" was sure to show up sooner or later, quite respectfully and unobtrusively.

Doris thought, with a sigh, as she sank back into the corner of the railway carriage and stared across at young Hartley, who was already buried in an illustrated journal, that life was very sad and her life, in particular. It seemed that she was always destined to be moving on to some new existence just when she was becoming fond of the old, and learning to love its people.

She was a creature of habit. Like a house cat, and nothing upset her unless it came so much as to have her personal articles moved from place to place. Nowadays she felt that she lived in perpetual turmoil and change.

Closing her eyes against the gay, brilliant landscape of the Riviera as it seemed to slide past the train windows, Doris reverted to her favorite dream. Everywhere has a favorite dream—some delightful, bizarre, impossible world where fancy likes to roam.

But Doris' dream was so very simple—as simple and candid and wholesome as herself.

She saw herself standing on the top step of the veranda of a little white house with leaf-green shutters, low eaves and window boxes filled with scarlet geraniums. There was a garden, like a neat green carpet—like the gardens she had seen in France—and flowers, old-fashioned friendly flowers, all over the place.

She saw herself wearing a crisp, starched, morning frock, with a frill of an apron, and she was waving goodbye, in the morning sunlight, to a nebulous sort of husband and a nebulous sort of husband.

Then, she saw herself re-enter the house and go to the telephone, with a plump, sleek, cat brushing at her ankles. And she heard herself saying: "Is this Kessler's Market? This is Mrs. So-and-so (the name didn't matter). I want to know if you have chops for lunch early today. I am having guests. Have you nice lettuce? Is it firm and crisp? Then, you may send me two heads. And you may add a pound of animal crackers for the children and some of those purple molasses buns."

"What's funny?" Hartley demanded suddenly, looking up from his journal. "You're smiling like a Cheshire cat."

Doris came to earth with a start. Her dream vanished into the limbo of lost little fancies.

"Nothing's funny," she said with a little ghost of a sigh. "I didn't know I was smiling."

"I wonder you don't leap for joy at leaving that mess behind," he commented. "I can't yet believe that we've actually escaped without an explosion of some sort and a show-down. By the way, we haven't settled the question yet: where do we go when we reach Paris?"

"We don't go anywhere," answered Doris with sudden spirit. He lifted his hand from his eyes. "You're not going to start that again, are you? Look here, Doris, for Heaven's sake be sensible. I can't let you go off by yourself in Paris—in a strange city, in a strange country, where you only just speak the language. You've got to stay under my protection until you step on a boat for New York."

Doris shook her silvery-blond head obstinately.

"I've written to my Cousin Henry. There should be an answer any day now, waiting for me, care of the American Express. I'll go to a quiet hotel and—and borrow

MEDITATIONS
MARRIED WOMAN

By HELEN ROWLAND

WOMAN'S GREATEST FAILING.

THE greatest trouble with woman, in this life, is that she never keeps her eye on the ball.

A man knows what he wants when he wants it—and goes right after it!

A woman knows she wants something—if she could only think where it is!

She wants but little—but she wants a little of everything. A little love, a little freedom; a little home, a little career; a little excitement and a little contentment. But, alas, like sunflowers and shade flowers, these do not all grow in the same garden.

A man concentrates on the one Big Thing in life he wants, whether it's money, fame, art or just ease and contentment—and he usually gets it. A woman scatters her forces on a thousand little things—and then wonders why she has failed in the only thing worth while.

She cannot keep her EYE ON THE BALL! Whether it's in a game, in business or in love, her attention is always wandering off on a detour. While she's playing cards, she's carrying on a snappy conversation; while she's in church, she's mentally redrawing the dining room; while she's taking letters, she's thinking what nice eyes the Boss has; and while she's flirting with one man, she's dreaming of another.

She mixes gossip with bridge, social life with her religion, romance with her job and vanity or cupidity or coquetry with her love! And all she gets is—HASH!

Keep your eye on the ball, Sister Mine! If you want love, go after it. But, don't look for a limousine and the Leeds pearls along with it. Most men who can give you French dinners, diamonds and motor cars have hardening of the arteries, rheumatism, and a varicose vein of sentiment. They are not romantically inspiring.

If you want money, work for it or marry it—but don't expect Fate to hand you a fortune, with a Prince Charming attached to it. There is only one Prince of Wales—and he's not a marrying man, much less a Mormon.

If you want fame, glory, success, you can get it, by hard labor and the sacrifice of nearly everything else on earth worth having; but you can never get it by lying in bed until noon, and hanging around studio parties with near-geniuses and would-be celebrities, all night.

enough from you to see me over until my own money comes. But you can go just anywhere you please. You mustn't think about me."

"But hang it all, I can't help it!" he declared, exasperated. "Not that I want to think about you, heaven knows! You've caused me enough trouble already. . . . But I can't set you down in the middle of Europe without friends or relatives or money or anything."

"I'll soon make friends," Doris assured him easily.

"That's the worst of it," he muttered. "You haven't any more sense of discrimination than a kitten. You could fall easily into any adventurer's hands."

Doris laughed suddenly. "It seems to me that, after this last escapade, I'm rather wary of being an adventurer myself. Judging by appearances and not by facts, most any shady person would be likely to say that I could show him a thing or two."

"Are you deliberately trying to make me furious by keeping up this senseless argument?" he demanded grimly.

"Well," said Doris pleasantly, "it's only when we quarrel that we talk at all."

With a smothered impression,

HOW SHALL
I DO IT?By Gladys Huntington
EvansMake Your Window Shades Interesting

SOME time ago I mentioned the fact that window shades do not have to be merely unobtrusive necessities. The day when our only idea for a window shade was a natural Holland or a dark green linen is past. This does not imply that such shades are not desirable at certain windows—because they are. But we can now find other fabrics which are suitable for the shading of windows or else are made especially for the purpose. For example, there are all the lovely flowered glazed chintzes which were suggested in this column and described in some detail.

Now there are sometimes windows located in rooms which do not lend themselves to an informal treatment, and consequently the flowered chintz seems not to be quite right. For these rooms there is possible another variation on shade treatment. That lies in the use of plain glazed chintzes in solid colors. These come in such a variety of colors that it would be hardly possible for you to fail to find a color that would be right for your room. They are not expensive and if economy must figure in the matter still further you could make them yourself. Of course, if you do so you must be absolutely accurate in your measurements or your shade will never look well or run straight. If you have never used a shade of this material you will be astonished at how much it adds to the effectiveness of your window treatment, and to the decorativeness of your whole room.

Our own heart, and not other men's opinions, forms our true honor.—Coleridge.

How to Shop
Table

By HANNAH

Before you visit the counters you should have made up as to what you will purchase: tablecloths, luncheon cloths or centerpieces.

In tablecloths you should decide whether you want all linen, (b) cotton, (c) part cotton, (d) nonwoven or (e) nonwoven damask (a smooth pattern woven in) or heavy cloth in plain colors.

If you can decide about the pattern before you come home you can shop early and avoid the terms in tablecloths on the kind of pattern shape it takes on the cloths are bordered all some bordered in cloth.

It's when things become strained and things to regret in the way of quick, not a sullen silence that I admit, such as some people know just how 45, 54, 64, 68 and 72 inches. Luncheon cloths are a little of the recipe given as the second lady. It is not in marriage alone. It is especially so with a man, who together has its trying moments.

Luncheon cloths are a little of the recipe given as the second lady. It is not in marriage alone. It is especially so with a man, who together has its trying moments.

When you examine the purchase consider its size, its color, its quality, durability and some big needles, and she while she went on with her work, as such as her face could show, work, I clearly see, was a great work, someone is talking earnestly, not where to look and keep silent. A many a woman over difficult situations that help our great-grandmother silent is of no time or day. It's when things become strained and things to regret in the way of quick, not a sullen silence that I admit, such as some people know just how 45, 54, 64, 68 and 72 inches. THE MARCH OF THE RED BIRDS.
(Apologies to Robt. Service.)
THE pennant race was over, oh, the triumph was so sweet! We'd won the flag, our first in many years; The Cardinals were passing down the scarlet glittering street, And you scarce could hear the music for the cheers. And you could not see the house-tops for the flags of scarlet hue, The bells were madly pealing to the sky, And everyone was shouting for our gallant wrecking crew— The champions of the League were passing by.
In front was Jimmy Bottomley, the chosen of the few, For whom we thank Nokomis, Illinois, Whose sunny smile in time of stress did much to pull us through Whose mighty wallop filled our hearts with joy. And then came Rogers Hornsby who had led the gallant host, A member of the baseball Hall of Fame His deeds of diamond valor are well known from coast to coast, His circuit clouts had ended many a game.

And then came Tommy Thewen, a better man at short Than little Tommy would be hard to find; And Bob O'Farrell, iron man, who played a greater part Than Catcher Bob, the backstop mastermind? And Lester Bell, third baseman for the Red Bird wrecking crew And Southworth, Hafey, Douthett also Holm; At field or in the batter's box their equals are but few, Hall to the boys who brought the bacon home!
When Alexander came in sight, the Master of the Mound, The town went mad and man was like a boy. A thousand flags were flaming from house-tops to the ground A thousand bells were ringing out the joy. There was music, mirth and sunshine but some eyes shone with regret, And sorrow could not be expressed in words; The Cincinnati visitors had not forgotten yet, Their pennant hopes were blasted by the Birds! —LOUIS J. CENTO.

MAN SHOT, WOMAN KILLED, IN BOOTLEG WAR IN E. ST. LOUIS

Bullet From a Passing Auto at Busy Intersection Wounds James Capasso, 26, Ex-Convict.

MISS SEMAR CUT BY FLYING GLASS

Brother, Clarence, 25, Also in Machine, Is Detained by Police Pending Investigation.

The busy intersection of Ninth and State streets, East St. Louis, was crowded with motorists returning from the Madison Kennel Club when at 11:45 o'clock last night a shot was fired in what police say was a renewal of the bootleg feud between Cuckoo gangsters and Italian gunmen. A warfare therefore centered in St. Louis and in St. Louis and Madison counties.

The shot seriously wounded one returning from the dog races, James Capasso, 26 years old, of 485 Temple avenue, St. Louis, an ex-convict and associate of Italian gangsters. The bullet penetrated his right lung and cut a nerve, paralyzing his right arm. He refused to give a name.

His companion, Miss Edith Semar, 23, of 214 North Sarah street, St. Louis, was cut in the right eye by a bullet. She also suffered a flesh wound of the left shoulder.

Man With Capasso Held.

Clarence Semar, 25, a soda dispenser, who was with his sister and spouse in the latter's expensive coupe, escaped injury. He is held at the East St. Louis police station. Another two are in St. Mary's Hospital.

The automobile from which the shot was fired sped away. It was described as a tan roadster, occupied by a man and woman.

To St. Louis detectives who questioned them, Semar and his sister said they had accompanied Capasso, an acquaintance of six months, to the dog track where Semar won $228, which he had been arrested as they were returning home on the Collinsville.

The roadster, passed them and dropped back as often as Capasso, driving south in Ninth street, made a boulevard up at State street, the roadster came up and stopped in front, ready to the left.

A man leaped out of the roadster. His right hand held a revolver. Without a word, he fired at Capasso's windshield and struck the glass cutting Miss Semar. Capasso slumped against the wheel. Miss Semar screamed for help. The name quickly but the roadster sped on south.

Assault Not Recognized.

Semar and his sister said they did not recognize the occupants of the roadster, and knew of no motive for the shooting. Capasso said nothing at all, even when told he might die.

But Capasso's record speaks for him, police say. He is an associate of the Giannola brothers and the Semar brothers, whose lives are thought by Cuckoo and whose interests have been falling right and left to the warfare, which is alleged to have originated in the machine industry in and around St. Louis. The most recent of his arrests for investigation was when he and William Russo were taken in Russo's armored filling station at Seventh and O'Fallon streets with a pistol in a desk. Police have repeatedly raided this place as a rendezvous of Italian gunmen, and Russo is seeking to join the raids. Capasso also associated with Joe Bonmarito, shot and killed by police last week when he resisted arrest.

Capasso's police alias is "Long Jim". His record includes a five-year sentence to Leavenworth prison for theft from interstate shipment, and a year's sentence to the city workhouse for petty larceny.

PROSECUTION WITNESSES FOR TRIAL OF JUDGE ENGLISH

Subpoenas Issued; Impeachment Case to Open Before the Senate Nov. 10.

The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—More than 60 witnesses have been summoned on behalf of the House in the impeachment case of Federal Judge George W. English of East St. Louis, whose trial is to start in Senate Nov. 10 on charges of treason of power and other misdeeds.

The number of witnesses to be called by the defense has not yet been announced. Subpoenas for witnesses probably will not be issued until a short time before the trial.
